RECENT SLIDE two weeks ago left a huge gaping hole in the Old Coast highway close to the intersection of the Thornton Beach access road. Arrow points to a wire fence which barred the road because of slides further down the road. The road will remain closed until the area can be shored up.

AERIAL VIEW from above the slide area shows three of the four homes (shown by arrows) threatened by slides. City Engineer William Chapman took this picture from a helicopter while investigating a landslide in the area two weeks ago.

AT JESD MEETING

Trustee Assails Member Election

The appointment of a trustee to fill a vacancy on the Jefferson Elementary school district board was assailed Monday night by board member Mrs. Katharine Mullen.

She charged that the selection of George C. Perry was not made in an objective manner.

Bus Policy Amendment Is Offered

By DON MILLER

A third Jefferson Elementary school district session on a proposed policy opposing transporting pupils to achieve racial balance in schools failed to produce agreement Monday night.

Meeting before one of the largest groups of residents to attend a session of the board in recent months, the board voted to table the proposal again after its author, Trustee O. Wayne Douglas, offered a substantial amendment.

As they did at the second meeting on the proposal last month, a number of district residents spoke out against the policy.

And again, their comments and the opinions of individual board members produced another lively discussion on a policy that board president Thomas Noonan later declared has become an "emotional" issue.

The board voted to table the proposal until its December 16 meeting so that members could study Douglas' amendment and an alternate proposal that was offered by Trustee Mrs. Katharine Mullen.

Westmoor Water Leak Is Reduced

By LOUANNE HEATH

Repairs to Westmoor High school's leaky hot water line, undertaken during the Thanksgiving holidays, have succeeded in cutting the water loss from 1000 gallons per day to only 2 or 3 gallons per hour, according to a report given to the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees Monday night.

District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan informed the board that a check of the automatic valves in the pipe line system had drastically cut the amount of water seeping from the lines.

According to Morgan, several suspected valves had been inspected and deficiencies in operation corrected.

The inspection will continue systematically until all valves have been checked for efficiency, Morgan said.

In other matters, the board voted to accept a sealed bid of $11,750 from Henry Doelger in-

Memorials to JFK Studied

Memorials to the late President John F. Kennedy were suggested at two separate meetings in Daly City Monday night.

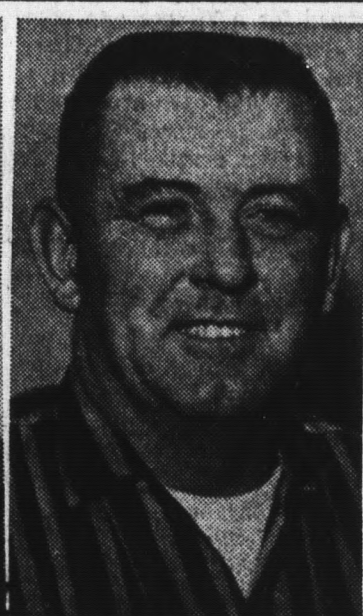

Vincent Cauchi, president of the Daly City-Colma Democratic club, asked the city council to consider using the name John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Plaza, in the proposed Daly City civic center.

Two School Trustees Are Named by District Boards

Two school district trustees have been appointed to fill vacancies on the Jefferson Elementary board and the Laguna Salada board.

George C. Perry has been named to succeed Dr. Donald Calvert on the Jefferson board while William H. Henderson has been appointed to succeed Duncan Burdick on the Laguna board.

Perry was named at a board meeting Monday night by a 3-1 vote. (Details of the selection are reported in another story on this page.)

Henderson was named at a special meeting of the Laguna board Friday night.

Perry lives at 250 Del Prado drive, Daly City, with his wife, Carol and their children, George, 14, a freshman at Westmoor High school and Leslie, 10, a student at Daniel Webster school.

He is employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric company in the claims and safety department. He has been with the company 12 years.

A graduate of San Leandro High school and Lincoln university in San Francisco, he served three years with the Army in World War II.

He is a member of the Daly City-Colma Democratic club and a number of social and fraternal organizations.

Last month, he served as coordinating chairman of a house-to-house drive in the St. Francis Heights area for the Mary's Help hospital fund.

He will serve out the one and a half years that remained of Calvert's term. Calvert resigned to take up residence in Berkeley.

Henderson lives at 1046 View Way in Pacifica with his wife and an infant son.

Largest D. C. Annexation Is Officially Completed

The 916-acre Christen Dairy Ranch property officially became part of Daly City last Wednesday and any chance of a referendum on the annexation was thereby eliminated.

"Unless someone made a mistake in tying up the package," City Attorney Paul Hupf said, "the Christen Ranch is now part of Daly City."

A number of technicalities, such as sending various affidavits to California Secretary of State Frank Jordan, will complete the annexation—the largest in the history of Daly City.

The property will be devel-

PG&E Annex Is Instituted By Daly City

Moves to clear up a number of annexations in the Daly City area were taken by the City Council Monday night.

Included in six actions concerning five annexations was the introduction of an ordinance adding industrial property valued at $500,000 in the Bayshore section, owned by Pacific Gas and Electric company.

The property had originally been annexed by Brisbane in a huge annexation move at the beginning of the year.

In subsequent court action between the Bayshore City Citizens' committee and Brisbane, the property was eliminated from the annexation because it abutted an access road to the Midway Village Housing project.

The committee's attorney, Thomas Bocci, contended that the road was part of inhabited territory and that Brisbane was annexing under the wrong act.

Brisbane eliminated the property rather than take a chance on having the whole annexation endangered.

In other annexation action, the council gave its permission to have a petition circulated in a square block of homes adjacent to Callan Heights. Several homeowners in the area are asking to join Daly City.

The annexation, designated the "Chester Annexation," received the approval of the Planning commission in a preliminary hearing last week.

The council took steps to withdraw its Bayshore area from the Visitation Lighting district.

RESIDENTS WARNED

Slides Peril Houses; Fill Work Started

By RON BATES

Daly City began a race with the weather last week to keep four homes from sliding into the Pacific Ocean.

City Engineer William Chapman ordered construction crews to begin work Saturday to fill in a gully caused by erosion and to replace a storm drain that collapsed in a landslide two weeks ago.

Crews began taking dirt from surrounding cliffs to fill in the gully in the Thornton Beach area along the Old Coast Highway in an effort to ease the pressure of a slide under the homes.

One big storm could send the homes, the park and the roads crashing into the ocean, Chapman indicated.

The erosion has been "eating its way up to the homes," he said, and he has warned the homeowners of the danger.

Chapman ordered work to begin at the erosion site over the weekend without the permission of the Division of Parks and Beaches.

He said he had not been able to contact anyone with sufficient authority to grant an easement to the city to take the storm drain through the "more stable" Thornton Beach Park area.

Chapman said Friday he was told to replace the line in its original position.

"If we build it to their (the state's) specifications and things slide," he said, "we couldn't fix it fast enough to keep the homes and park from sliding into the ocean."

The homes threatened are at 8 Lynvale court, 84 Lynvale court, 1 Skyline drive and 10 Skyline drive.

When one homeowner called Chapman to ask if he should move, Chapman told her to get out of the house if it started raining. He said it would be like "pouring hot water on milk chocolate."

The homeowner told Chapman she was hearing "creaking noises" throughout the house.

The city has been aware of the erosion for over a year and made an appeal for help from the Army Corps of Engineers February 13, the engineer explained.

"We hoped to have time for the study so that the best and most efficient measures could be taken to stop the erosion," he said.

The study was to preface a request for federal aid.

"Time omits that now," Chapman said.

In a meeting Monday between

Anti-Erosion Plan Offered By Pacifica

By LOIS McNALLY

The city of Pacifica has come up with a plan to help Esplanade drive home owners, threatened with steady erosion of their sea cliffside homes.

City Engineer Al Roberts said this week his department has proposed the construction of a heavy rock rubble sea wall at the base of a cliff along the beach for about 600 feet parallel to eleven endangered homes.

However, the plan would cost homeowners more than a proposal recently advanced to them by a private engineering firm.

Roberts said the approximate cost of the sea wall would be $5000 for each lot—to be met by the homeowners through assessment district proceedings.

Interested In Medic-Alert?

The Daly City fire department is trying to determine how much interest there is in a medic-alert program in the city, according to Capt. Robert Greenstrand, before embarking on a house-to-house canvass of all homes.

The medic-alert program uses a decal, which would be placed in the window of homes of aged persons, of crippled persons or of persons suffering heart ailments.

For persons interested in taking part in the program more information may be obtained by calling the central fire station at WY 2-1144.

ANNUAL DRIVE BEGINS

It's Operation Santa Claus

A COMMUNITY service project that participants agree, is unsurpassed in the degree of good will it creates on the part of both giver and receiver, began its 13th annual run today in Daly City.

It's official name is Operation Santa Claus. Unofficially, it's known as "Daly City's way of taking care of its own."

Basically, Operation Santa Claus provides an efficient and well-organized program of channeling the generosity of all of Daly City's residents and organizations to those in need at Christmas.

The objective is to make certain that no deserving family is overlooked at Christmas. Another objective is to eliminate duplication and waste in aiding the needy by co-ordinating the efforts of all of the community's men and women of good will.

Beginning today, the cornerstone of the program—the donation of food, toys and clothing—will be in gear. Donations may be sent to the Daly City Central Fire station at 157 Lake Merced boulevard.

Cash donations may be sent to one of the two chairmen of Operation Santa Claus, Peter J. Markovich, at 6454 Mission street.

The other chairman is Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. Both have stressed that this Yuletide good will program deserves the support of all of Daly City's citizens.

LAST YEAR, 22 religious, service, P-TA, Scouting, civic and fraternal organizations participated in one way or another in Operation Santa Claus.

Their efforts and the contributions of individuals helped the program aid a record 94 needy families in which there were 396 children.

This year's preliminary list of needy folk already has 70 families with more than 300 children. And Markovich and Kennedy agree the final total will most likely surpass last year's figure.

As in the past 12 years, the members of the various organizations who will participate can be expected to contribute in a multitude of ways.

Some will help with donations of funds and merchandise while others will aid with distribution, transportation and labor.

Bus Policy Amendment Is Offered

posed Douglas' proposal at the two previous meetings, drew a round of laughs when she revealed that if her alternate proposal were not accepted, she had an amendment to Douglas' policy she would try to have adopted.

In his original proposal, Douglas said that the district should go on record as being opposed to transporting pupils as a "method of eliminating ethnic, cultural, racial or religious distinctions."

In effect, this would declare that the board was against transporting pupils from one school to another to achieve a racial balance among the schools.

His amendment, he said, would declare:

"In the establishment of school attendance areas and the assignment of pupils thereto, it is the policy of the board that everything possible shall be done to eliminate the segregation of children on the basis of ethnic, cultural, racial or religious distinctions."

"In eliminating segregation, all of such factors, among others, shall be considered in the location of new schools and the establishment of school district attendance boundaries."

"But the board does not favor transporting pupils as the solution to segregation in any form."

Mrs. Mullen's proposed substitute policy declared:

"This board is of the opinion that de facto school segregation is educationally unsound and harmful to all children as pupils and as future citizens of the community."

"In line with this belief . . . this board will take, whenever necessary, all possible steps to prevent, eliminate or lessen the impact of any imbalance in the schools of the Jefferson district."

Noonan commented after hearing Mrs. Mullen's proposal that it did not conflict with Douglas' policy but was a statement of policy on de facto segregation, rather than on bus policies.

Before the trustees began discussing the proposed policy, they heard four residents speak against it.

Larry Freiberg of 30 Village Lane, who had voiced his opposition to the proposal at the board's last meeting, reiterated the arguments he made then.

He added that "the question is not whether we bus students but whether or not we have de facto segregation. Almost everyone knows that Westlake and St. Francis Heights are almost 100 per cent white."

He called for the school board to make "a realistic study of the facts."

Mrs. Gladys Moss of 80 Woodrow Street, Daly City, declared that the proposed policy was "in direct violation of state policy."

She urged trustees to adopt "a more positive policy" and added that the problem was not transporting pupils but was "the unnecessary splitting up of families."

Donald Garrity of 391 Glenwood Avenue, Daly City, told the board he was a sociologist but that he was appearing before the trustees "as a private citizen rather than as a sociologist."

He declared that "this proposed policy is an attempt to exempt the public school system from its responsibility to take corrective action." And he added:

"It seems to me this policy is a statement that we are not willing to provide them (students) with the best in life."

Mrs. Everett Mason of 460 Santa Barbara Avenue, Daly City, said that the issue was neither a transportation problem nor a racial problem.

Post Office Hours Set

Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy today announced special Christmas season hours for postal operations, beginning Monday and extending through December 24. Here is the schedule:

Daily from December 9 - Main office and Colma stations from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Westlake station from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Saturdays-December 14, all stations from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; December 21, main office and Colma stations from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; Westlake station from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sundays-December 15, main office from 12 noon to 4 p.m.; Colma station closed; Westlake station from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

December 22, main office and Colma stations will be closed; Westlake station open from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

On Christmas Eve, all stations will close at 1 p.m.

Apartment Plan Draws Opposition

Discussion of plans for a group of controversial tower apartments on Wellington Street was postponed last week by the Daly City Planning Commission after a group of residents in the proposed construction area objected at a re-zoning hearing.

Developer E. T. Kornsthoef of San Carlos agreed to a suggestion by City Engineer William Chapman to withdraw the zoning application and submit a complete master plan for the entire area.

Proposals to rezone other property in the neighborhood has evoked objections from the same group of residents at two meetings of the planning commission and city council.

Chapman said perhaps a plan of the whole area would make it "more palatable" to the protesting property owners.

Charles Garry of 482 Wellington Avenue, representing the property owners, said they believed they should see more specific plans of the proposed development and be able to study them at length before the commission took action.

Daly City Planning technician Calvin Malone said he thought Kornsthoef had presented "a fairly cohesive plan."

Malone said tower apartments would be an asset to the city. Kornsthoef will present the master plan at the commission's December 17 meeting.

ceive an initial tax income from land assessments starting from last Wednesday, whether the area is developed or not.

As development progresses, the improvements would yield additional tax income, both from real and property taxes, and from sales taxes accruing in a 190-acre business complex.

A completely weather conditioned shopping center is planned for a 73-acre site near the junction of the Junipero Serra and Cabrillo freeways, with concourse open areas rather than malls. Stores will open in a bazaar arrangement onto the concourse.

The master plan for the area calls for a 320-acre residential park with high, medium and low density housing.

Half the residential land will be devoted to high density tower apartments, garden apartments and terrace apartments on the steeper slopes.

Construction will begin in the southern part of the development.

According to Arch's projected figures, sales taxes from the Christen development will bring Daly City $679,970 annually when the development is complete.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

"SAIL ONE WAY and drive the other." That's the slogan you hear these days in Alaska as our forty-ninth state embarks upon a new transportation system that should evoke a deluge of Alaska-bound tourists.

Last month we gave you an idea of what travel is like on the fabled Alaska highway, until this year the principal link between Alaska and, as the Alaskans call it, "the outside."

The highway remains the main drag to Alaska but it was supplemented for the first time this year by a new highway that is neither concrete or gravel. It's water.

It's what the far north Americans call their "Marine Highway," a system of state-owned and operated ferries that carry autos and passengers from Prince Rupert in British Columbia, through the Inside Passage to historic Skagway, gateway to the Klondike gold fields in 1898.

Until these ferries—which are more liner than ferry—went into operation, this region of Alaska, called the Panhandle, could only be viewed by air or steamship visitors.

And since Alaska's Panhandle is an outdoor wonderland of countless big and little islands, massive glaciers and deep forested fjords, the inaugural of the ferry system opens up a beautiful world of exploration to the American driving public.

Thus, the visitor to Alaska now has an option he didn't have before. Rather than driving over some 2400 miles of gravel road (the Alaska highway) on a round trip tour, he may sail one way and drive the other.

THE NEW MARINE Highway serves eight cities. Passengers may stop off at any or all of them, disembarking from one vessel and boarding another later.

Prince Rupert, the southern terminus of the route, can be reached by air and rail as well as by road. The city has a storied past. It was incorporated in 1910 but its name goes back to the founding of the pioneer Hudson's Bay company in 1670.

Prince Rupert, a cousin of Charles II of England, was the first governor and he ruled over an area that comprised more than half a continent.

First stop after leaving the Canadian jump-off point is Ketchikan, which claims the title of "Salmon Capital of the World." It's also the home of the world's largest collection of totem poles and the state's first pulp mill.

The mill also is the world's largest dissolving pulp mill, producing material used primarily in the manufacture of rayon and cellophane. Visitors can tour the mill.

The aspect of Ketchikan that overshadows its reasons for existing, however, is the view. The city sits practically on the side of a mountain between timberland and tidewater and no matter which way you turn, you've always got a spectacular view.

Second stop on the Marine Highway is Wrangell, the third oldest community in Alaska and one that bustles with canneries processing salmon, crab and shrimp.

Wrangell was established by the Russians in 1834 and has the unique distinction of being the only city in Alaska to have existed under three flags—Russian, British and now American.

One of the most fascinating tourist tours in Alaska leaves Wrangell each week—a trip 165 miles up the Stikine river to Telegraph creek and back.

AFTER WRANGELL, the Marine Highway brings you to Petersburg, often called "Little Norway," a city that is home port for 160 fishing boats and the home of five processing plants that handle 16 to 20 million pounds of halibut, salmon, cod and shellfish a year.

The all-time record King Salmon, a 126-and-a-half-pound beauty, is on permanent display here.

The city is named after a Scandinavian, Peter Buschmann, who, instead of looking for gold in 1897, was more interested in lumber and fishing. He settled in the area to build a salmon cannery and sawmill.

Hundreds of descendants of Buschmann's Scandinavian fishermen and cannery workers live in the city today. And each May, they and other townspeople gather to stage a "Little Norway Festival" that commemorates the return of the fishing fleet from its first sailing to the halibut grounds.

The beautifully picturesque city of Sitka is the next stop on the Marine Highway, a city that was called the "Paris of the Pacific" back in the days when Russia owned Alaska and Sitka was the capital of the Russian territory.

The old Russian influence is evident in downtown Sitka in St. Michael's Russian Orthodox cathedral. The cathedral was erected in the 1940s.

Each October 18, Sitka stages its Alaska Day festival, which commemorates at the exact location it happened, the transfer of Alaska from Russia to the United States.

SITKA WAS ALSO the first capital of American-owned Alaska, an honor that is now held by the next city on the water highway, Juneau.

As we wrote a few weeks ago, Juneau is the only city in the Union that cannot be reached overland on ordinary macadam and concrete. It's either airplane or boat or not at all.

Like the other cities along the Marine Highway, Juneau also has a spectacular backdrop of mountain scenery. Its climate, strangely, is most un-Alaskan, comparable as it is with London and Washington, D.C., except that Juneau is considerably wetter with rainfall totalling about 150 inches a year.

A short drive from Juneau is one of the most spectacular vistas of its kind—the Mendenhall glacier. One of 16 key glaciers that are a part of the vast Juneau icefield, comprising about 1000 square miles of land that extends into Canada.

Mendenhall is a mile and a half wide and ranges from 100 to 200 feet high. The ice you see once was snow that fell some 200 years ago. The glacier moves forward from a few inches to about five feet each day.

However, Mendenhall is melting faster than it can move forward and as a result, the face or front of the glacier has been receding on the average of about 90 feet a year.

Second to the last stop on this water route to Alaska is Haines, the only city on the Panhandle that is directly linked by road to the Alaska and Canadian highway systems. It is thus a major crossroads of tourist traffic and is the northern gateway for the Marine Highway.

Car Wash Benefits Drive

JACQUELINE CONOVER, a senior at South San Francisco High school, turns over a check for $20 to Richard Minucciani, Mary's Help hospital campaign chairman for South San Francisco. Check represented proceeds of a car-wash, sponsored by members of the high school's Paramedical club to raise funds for the hospital. Looking on is another senior, Dale Torres. Miss Conover hopes to take nurses training at the new hospital.

MARY'S HELP

Hospital Drive To Be Continued

Leaders of the Mary's Help hospital fund drive have decided to continue through the holiday season the campaign to raise funds to complete the hospital as a 400-bed facility.

They added that the remainder of the drive would be considered as "a tribute and memorial to our martyred President, John F. Kennedy."

The hospital, being erected on an 11-acre hilltop site west of Junipero Serra boulevard and adjacent to the St. Francis Heights and Westlake areas, is one-fifth completed.

Frank Curry, overall chairman of the drive under Judge George B. Harris, said that weekly report meetings would be suspended until after the first of the year.

"This doesn't mean," he cautioned, "any letup in solicitation for those who have the time. Nor should it prevent anyone who has been overlooked in the drive from volunteering his contribution or pledge card."

Drive headquarters in Daly City is at 95 South Mayfair avenue in the west wing of a building housing Temple Judea. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Donors may call in person or mail their contributions to Mary's Help Hospital drive, P.O. Box 3145, Daly City.

Memorial Fund Set

A group of Pacifica city and civic leaders have established a John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund for Mary's Help hospital. Plans for the fund were announced by Kenneth O. Strom, president of the Pacifica Democratic club. Contributions may be sent to the fund at P.O. Box 1275, Pacifica.

North County Notebook

By Ron Bates

COVERING THE NORTH END of the county for the past year has taught me one thing—you can't get everything that happens at a meeting into one story.

Even when the news produced by a meeting is broken into two or three stories, quite often little items of interest or the ramifications of the big items have to be cut because of space limitations.

With this reasoning behind me, I join the other columnist writing in this paper. With the exception of Don Miller's Pacific Parade, all of them are specialists and I'm no different.

Government and the interesting people who orbit around it will be among the subjects of this column. The implications of legislation and the effects of it on the city or taxpayers will also be aired here.

Perhaps through me you will get to know and understand the north end of the county and its people better.

THERE'LL BE SOME changes made, not of city employees, but by them. The latest recruit for diaper duty is one of the newest employees in Daly City—Dave Rowe, administrative assistant to City Manager Ed Frank.

Dave's wife, Maryann, gave birth to a six-pound two-ounce girl at Peralta hospital in Oakland two weeks ago. She was born at 10 a.m. and Dave was back at work at two in the afternoon, passing out cigars and candy.

The child, whom they have named Mary Elizabeth, is the first for the Rows.

Dave will have to hurry to catch up with some of the other employees of the city who have a reputation not only for being proficient but also prolific.

Co-champs of the brigade are Al Bender in the Public Works department and Paul De Natale of the fire department with eight children each. De Natale may pull ahead soon with his ninth. Moving up fast, however, is Chuck Vincent, head of the recreation department, whose wife, Betty, gave birth to the couple's seventh child, a girl named Jennifer, last month.

Let's take a look at some of the contenders: Finance Director Joe Arch has six children, Councilmen Bob St. Clair, Michael DeBernardi and Frank Pacelli have five, City Engineer Bill Chapman has five, City Librarian Sam Chandler has five, Assistant City Engineer Ed Dominion has four with another on the way, and Recreation Supervisor Ed Tomasello has four.

One expression that's avoided around city hall is "What's New?"

About a year ago, a national magazine came out with an article about Daly City's birth rate. According to the article, Daly City has one of the highest birth rates per capita in the nation. So when Mayor Joe Verducci said during the annexation of Bayshore that Daly City was a "bedroom city" he wasn't referring just to taxes.

DALY CITY'S official welcome to the newly annexed territory of Bayshore by the Chamber of Commerce a while back would have to be chalked up as a success by all concerned.

Chamber Manager Pete Markovich told Ed Olson, manager of the Serra Bowl's Friar room, to set places for 45 diners but to prepare for about 60, just in case. As it turned out, almost every seat in the restaurant was filled as 97 turned up.

Among the elected and appointed officials, it was almost 100 per cent attendance. Every judge that represented the district was there, including Judge Frank Blum, Judge Charles Becker and the newest judge appointed, Jose deLarios. Board of Supervisors members were all there with the exception of Louis Chess who was on vacation in Europe.

The only Daly City councilman missing was Bob St. Clair who had a previous engagement in New York the following Sunday with a football team called the Giants. He might as well have stayed home. The 49'ers took a 48-14 wallop.

Judge Blum, as usual, gave a humorous and warm welcome speech. But the remark that woke everybody up was a slip of the tongue by Supervisor Chairman Jim Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald, addressing the residents of Bayshore, said: "We're glad to see you as part of the city of Bris..." And he stopped suddenly.

The faux pas brought laughter from everybody, especially from Bayshore residents, who don't think too highly of their neighboring city.

One Bayshore resident at the meeting commented upon a headline in The Post-Times of a month or so ago that read: "Cities to Bury Hatchet." It referred to friendly overtures to be made by Daly City towards Brisbane.

"Yeah," she said, "I'd like to bury the hatchet, right in their skulls."

MAYOR VERDUCCI, who is in the race for county supervisor, doesn't seem to be afraid of "hot potatoes." As president of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors, he organized a panel of newspaper speakers so that the mayors could turn the tables and fire questions at them. The newsmen seemed as adept at side-stepping the issue as some of the politicians.

Later, Verducci arranged talks with W. Kenneth Norris, executive director of the Governmental Research Council of San Mateo county, and James Himmel, president of the Town Hall association of San Mateo county.

Boy Pokes Arm Through Window

A 14-year-old Daly City boy accidentally poked his left arm through the window of a rear door in his home about 1:30 Sunday afternoon, police reported.

Bruce W. Steele of 147 Knowles avenue was treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for a cut wrist.

PURSE STOLEN

Rita E. Perkov of 172 Gambetta street, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that someone had stolen a purse from her auto while it was parked in the Our Lady of Perpetual Help church lot.

Inter-Racial Betterment Unit Formed

A total of 48 Pacificans signed up to work on a committee to improve inter-racial relations in their city at the concluding session last week of the North Coast Community Council's seminar on "Race and Residence."

After hearing a description of the Marin County Committee for Fair Play, which encourages non-segregated housing, the Pacificans voted to form a group for future action.

Dr. David Marvin who has been moderator of the NCCC series, agreed to call the first meeting of those persons volunteering to serve on a steering committee.

Maxwell Hull, a Marin high school teacher, said that his group collected signatures of people who were willing to declare themselves ready to welcome Negroes or Orientals as neighbors.

After publication of some prominent names on the list, many residents who were at first reluctant to pledge themselves openly hastened to sign the list, Hull said.

Other speakers at last week's meeting, the third in the fall series, were George Dabney of the San Mateo Council for Civic Unity and Robert Holloway of University of California Department of Sociology.

$875,303 PROJECT

Doelger to Build 125 Apartments

The estimated cost of new construction in Daly City took a sudden jump last month with the issuance of a building permit for a 125-unit apartment house to Henry Doelger incorporated.

The three-story apartment building, costing $875,303, will be built at 25 Poncetia drive.

The estimated cost of the apartment house brought the month's total to $1,358,714 for 73 permits. Last year, 67 permits for construction estimated at $308,914 were issued.

Last month's activity brought the year's cumulative total of permits issued this year by the Building Inspector's office to 938 or 25 ahead of last year's pace.

The cumulative estimated cost of construction, however, is $13,284,774, compared to $8,222,150 at this time last year.

Also contributing to November's building spurt were permits for three other apartment buildings with a total estimated cost of $108,000, permits for 2 new homes costing an estimated $63,420 and 44 permits for alterations to existing homes costing $82,491.

Most of the new homes are to be built in the Southern Hills section of the city by Lawton Heights Development company of San Francisco.

In the past two weeks permits were issued to:

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Levy, 138 North Mayfair, to build addition to home.

Carlos Rodriguez, 360 Frankfort street, to add rampus room.

W. H. Millheim, 793 St. Francis boulevard, to install door.

Harold D. Mattes, 671 Skyline drive, to add family room.

L. E. Riuse, 49 Belmont drive, to add closets.

Sanberg Building corporation, 177 Abbott street, to build home.

Wesley Methodist church, 272 Belhaven avenue, to construct room in basement.

Louise Guisti, 9 Castillejo drive, to add basement room.

Angelo Caratte, 600 Templeton avenue, to add asbestos siding.

Samuel Gordon, 698 Clarida street, to construct family room.

Ronald Stehle, 27 Lakeview drive, to construct family room.

A. J. Giraudi, 272 Westbrook avenue, to add family room and bedroom.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McDermott Jr., 81 Wilshire avenue, to add bedroom and extend kitchen.

Henry J. Cummins, 22 Cliffside drive, to add opening in dining room.

Richard D. Yadow, 97 Maywood avenue, to add family room.

A. H. Polster, 56 Perita, to add laundry and study in basement.

Golfers Beware!

Golfers beware!! The Daly City Recreation Commission has ordered a crackdown on golfers who have been using the city's parks and playgrounds for practice turfs.

Several hundred dollars worth of damage has been caused at Marchbanks and Westlake parks and to school grounds, according to Recreation department head Charles Vincent.

Parents of children causing the damage will be held responsible, Vincent said. Adults damaging areas will be charged with vandalism.

Opening of Coast Road Is Delayed

Opening of the old coast road linking Westlake Terrace and Pacific Manor Shopping Center has been delayed pending work by the Pacific Telephone company.

Pacifica city engineer Al Roberts said last week that repairs on the road, washed out during a heavy storm a year ago, have been completed but that the road cannot be paved until a new phone conduit is finished.

The old underground cable was destroyed when a huge chunk of the road caved in after the storm.

Roberts said he estimated the phone work would take two or three weeks and that the paving could be finished in a couple of days.

Equipment and Tools Stolen

Thieves stole tools and related equipment, valued at a total of $662, from two adjacent auto firms on Mission street in Daly City last week, police reported.

Blackstone Motors at 6774 Mission reported the theft of a television set, a tool chest, a sander and a buffer.

City Auto Mart at 6770 Mission reported the theft of a polisher, a set of mechanic's tools and a battery charger.

By LE PACINI

JIMMY PIERSALL aptly demonstrated, several years ago, the potential damage to the psyche by the strains of athletic competition.

Of course, Piersall's complex of problems reached beyond big league pressures, but, nevertheless, the strain of major league competition was the catalyst which detonated the time-bomb in Piersall's mind.

Granted, it was an unusual case, but in thinking about it the other day, we wondered what the strain of athletic competition could do to youngsters in the now highly organized, scaled-to-big-league-size, Little League type of program, if an adult could crack the way Piersall did.

Physically, the damage which can be wrought on these youngsters in roughly the 9 to 12 age group is minimal, we have found, in comparison with the psychological dangers (thus physical aspect will be studied soon in another column).

We are not against small-kid competition. On the contrary, we believe that, if properly handled, as it now generally is, it could do nothing but good. But if mishandled, as is occasionally the case, it could do immeasurable harm.

IN MANY SUCH leagues, particularly it seems to us, in smaller communities where ties are firmer, and other divergences distant, youngsters are handled like big leaguers, cheered when "good," rebuffed (perhaps not consciously) when "bad." The importance of winning in some of these leagues is paramount, and parental interference, whether intended or not, is insufferable.

Community pressure will oftentimes reach an almost fanatical pitch: parents will threaten umpires, kids will break down and cry over a bobble which costs a run or a missed pass which prevents a touchdown.

A nine-year-old strikes out, looks in the stands at his well-meaning and heretofore proud father, and watches his old man turn away in momentary disgust or humiliation, which, though forgotten by the father minutes later, may leave a permanent impression on a youngster who merely didn't want to let his father down. If you're watching television this year, you know this youngster's going to have an emotional problem.

When a gang of kids get together on a vacant lot (granted, there aren't many of THOSE, nowadays) and chooses up sides, results of the contest are probably forgotten the next day, even if they do their own umpiring and spend most of the time bickering about tie bases going to the runner.

Take the same kids and put them in a highly competitive game, and they're liable to remember the score for a long time—especially if they've lost.

THERE IS often another detrimental effect besides the direct emotional stress placed on youngsters in the game itself. Worrying about an upcoming game, these boys tend to forget other normal childhood activities.

The Little League, for instance, starts in early spring, continues through fall. Cops and robbers, swimming, hiking, family activities, homework, all take a back seat to the urge to win, and the incessant thinking about it.

Dr. Harvey Williams, professor of physical education at San Francisco State college, has made thorough studies of the effects of intensive competition on youngsters.

He says that the physical danger of such kid competition should be minimized in the minds of people. As he points out, a substantial argument in favor of organized athletics is the fact that under proper administration, a child is less likely to be injured than he would be playing sandlot ball.

"The big danger is socio-psychological. Therefore the primary requisite in any publicly administered league is leadership. Such leagues, for one thing, should be looked at as primarily educational experiences."

Dr. Williams contends that an ex-major leaguer, for instance, managing a Little League club, doesn't necessarily guarantee success. The team may win, but the individuals could lose because their ex-major leaguer may know the game, but not the individuals, not the kids.

THESE GROUPS for the most part, says Dr. Williams, are aware of such problems and are doing as much as possible to keep their competition on a high plane.

"With correct leadership the children can be made to understand competitive games in perspective with other activities. When a boy neglects summer Scout camp because he wants to train for his team, then the game is taking on an exaggerated importance in the child's mind."

Dr. Williams says that professional recreation people are also cognizant of these problems, and feels that any program of the Little League nature should be administered by a professional.

Another thing which could be done to help such programs, feels Williams, is the co-ordination of the Little League, Pop Warner, recreation department types of programs, with school programs.

Often there are conflicts which further frustrate the youngsters. Should he be loyal to his school and practice with its team this afternoon, or let his classmates down so as not to disappoint the kids and the director at the neighborhood playground, which is holding practice at the same time.

Again, this is being worked out in some areas, but there is still much to be done.

"These outside-school activities must work as supplements, not duplications," says Dr. Williams.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS:

Winless Terra Nova deserves credit for showing up to every game. Not only did five first stringers break bones during the course of the season, but the Tigers suffered the sudden rude awakening of dropping from '62's largest team in the league to '63's smallest team in the league, i.e., Jom Bonner, first string defensive end, 5-7, 128, and center, Wayne Cardelli, 5-2, 142.

Congratulations to the survivors! The rest of Northern California's brand of prep football is either awfully strong or awfully weak.

It has to be one or the other, if Westmoor's statistical powerhouses Dave Mahoney and Bruce Hix could place only thirty-first, eleventh and seventeenth in scoring, rushing and passing, respectively, in recently released prep statistics.

Oceana Cagers Experienced

Oceana Has 8 Veterans For Season

By RON BATES

IF EXPERIENCE is the best teacher, the upcoming North Peninsula league basketball season should prove a good test for the Oceana Sharks.

Coach Rich Warne has all but one of the nine players who comprised the Shark team last season and four new men to send against North Peninsula league competition this year.

Warne said last year that it was a building year for the Pacifica school. The Sharks wound up in the cellar with a 1-9 league record and a 3-12 over-all slate.

This year it's a different story. He feels the Sharks will have more of a bite and could surprise many to possibly take on a dark horse role.

"The team is improved 100 per cent in experience," Warne said, "and the kids are eager."

Only Steve Rentmeester, a burly 200-pound junior, is missing from the Shark lineup. Rentmeester broke his leg in football practice two months ago.

A KEY FIGURE in the Shark attack is All-League guard Dave Breazeale, playmate and leading scorer of last year's team.

Breazeale, a 5-9 senior, was seventh in league scoring with 39 field goals and 48 free throws for a total of 110 points and an average of 11 points per game.

Warne is also counting heavily on 6-3 forward Larry Kincaide to produce points for the Sharks. Kincaide was an honorable mention for all-league honors last year, although he played in only six games. He was out for part of the season with bronchitis.

In the six games he played, Kincaide dunked 24 field goals and 27 free throws for 75 points and twelfth place in league scoring.

Other men on the first team who will be back are Ted Brodd, Bill Skrifvars and Dave Westphal.

Warne is shuffling his players around now and has moved Brodd into the center slot. Brodd, the Shark's strongest rebounder last year, is even stronger this year, Warne said.

Brodd is overcoming a shooting shyness he had last year and should be a contributing factor for the Sharks in the scoring column, he added.

The shift of Brodd has enabled Warne to put Kincaide, last year's center, on the outside to give him more set and jump shots.

Westphal, a husky six-foot guard-forward, is expected to help on the boards. He is a COACH RICH WARNE gives pointers to some key players on his returning Oceana team of veterans. The Sharks will be out to better a 1-9 NPL record from last season and move out of the cellar. good driver, said Warne.

THE COACH said he is pleased with the over-all height of the team. Nine players are six-foot tall or more.

The tallest is center Tom Carrig, a 6-5, 180-pound junior out for the first time. Also scheduled to see action in the center position are veterans Roger Shmittgrund, a 6-3 senior, and Ken Cosby, a six-foot junior.

Breazeale's running mate at the other guard spot so far is a transfer student from Redding, Bill Whitman, a "good ball handler," according to Warne.

Expected to give Whitman a fight for the guard spot is veteran Bill Wipprecht who has turned out for the team after running cross-country.

Fighting for the forward position are Steve Tealdi, a 6-1 senior; Rich Bermudez, a 5-11 senior out for the first time, and Bill Skrifvars, another cross-country late entrant.

Skrifvars, a first stringer last year, is another improved player, Warne said.

THE SHARKS will more than likely play a ball-control game, Warne said, "but with our guards, who have improved experience-wise, we're capable of running."

The Pacifica coach tabs Westmoor and Jefferson as title contenders this year.

"The next four teams will be real close," he said.

Of his own team, Warne said: "When the kids are hot, we can do anything. We have the shooters."

The Sharks last season beat only the El Camino Colts in league competition, but upset the Terra Nova Tigers, 49-48, in overtime in the league's first annual tournament.

Bulldogs Bow In Water Polo

Defending State junior college water polo champion Foothill college dealt College of San Mateo its first JC defeat in the new Bulldog sport yesterday last week in Los Altos, 19-2, to take the Northern California JC title.

Both teams qualify for this week's State JC tournament in Southern California as the top two squads in Northern California.

However, the CSM student body is not expected to send the Bulldogs to the tourney since they didn't win the Nor-Cal title.

Matean coach Rich Donner said his men played a good game but just couldn't keep up with the faster Owls. CSM goals were scored by George White and Larry Moblad.

Westlake Bowl

BOB McMICHAEL sent the pins flying Tuesday night as he led not only his Inter-Parish league but all the leagues with a terrific 248 game and 619 series.

A big 232 game and 581 series gave Tony Toraise bowler of the night honors Monday as he led his Wonder Bread team to victory in the 815 Scratch Bowl. Bob Tegland and Ed Reinitz have no quarrel with the figure 563 as they led their leagues with this total last week. Bob had a high game of 210 as he topped the Blue Monday Scratch league while Ed's high game of 212 helped him top the B'nai B'rith league. Another 563 total was rolled by Jay Castello as he led the Early Fives league on a high game of 213.

San Morgan found the Weekly Handicap Sweeper popular as he took home the $100 first prize. By popular demand, the Sweeper now runs from Monday to midnight Sunday, giving an opportunity to many league bowlers to compete. Last week 87 bowlers won $205 in cash prizes and it is expected that this week's entry list will exceed the two hundred mark. Bowlers may compete whenever lanes are available.

Ruth Noll continues to find the pocket consistently, this time for a 204 game and 578 series as she again led the Ladies' 810 Classic league.

Leading the 805 Scratch league for the week was Joe Mitchell with a 508 series on a high game of 205.

A 1964 MG four door sports sedan is the target in this year's Christmas Singles Classic now underway. With a new format this year, it is necessary to qualify before 10 p.m. December 15 in order to be eligible for the second round which runs from December 16 to 10 p.m. December 22.

With six classes, bowlers of all averages are eligible to compete for the many prizes. This year's tournament is being held in the following bowling centers: Bagdad, Brentwood, Castle, Downtown, Lincoln, Mission, Serra Westlake and is open to both men and women. Bowlers may compete at any time.

The Westlake Junior travel league teams continue to prove that where they bowl makes little difference in their scores as they more than held their own in the six leagues. Three teams are leading with two others in second place. Next Sunday finds our Junior 900 Masters at Palo Alto meeting the King's Bowl team. Our sincere congratulations to Bob Sexton our former junior director who was selected as "Coach of the Year" while serving as head football coach at El Camino High school in South San Francisco.

Sea Bowl

IT'S TIME once again for the fourth annual Northern California Bowling Proprietors' Association Men's Team Handicap Tournament. House eliminations will run through March 1, 1964. Get your teams together, fellas, and join the fun. Choose your own time and day of bowling. George Williams will give you all of the data.

Family bowling on Sunday mornings has been very successful and the kids sure enjoy it. I came down a couple of weeks ago with four children (my son and three of his pals). I ended up keeping score and having to ask the desk man for the little scorekeeping book as they did the most unusual things and I thought perhaps I could find them in the little book. Unfortunately they weren't there. Oh well, kismet!

Miriam Pecota, bowling on the Ladies Thursday Scratch league, scored high in both game and series with a 202-512. Laura Hyle, bowling on the Mariners, sure had a red letter day when she bowled a beautiful 221-503 for top honors. She also polished off the first turkey of the day.

SEA BREEZE: Joe Ryan posted the high game and series of the evening with a 236-569. Don Zarnoch topped the Belles and Beaus league with a 225-601. The Stardusters had two stars of the night with Clara Meadows bowling the high series of 189-480. Helen Freeman had the high game of 193. Rhilda Ross, bowling on the Claire's Pet Team of the Sea Bowl Classic league, had the high series of 239-622. Bob Moldovan had the high game of 245.

Alleyholics: The high game and series of the day was bowled by Max Hill, 204-497. In the Neptunes Daughters league, Vera Ludwig had both the high game and series of 181-487. Terry Moore had the first turkey of the day.

Pacific Travelers: Ey Jones was sporting the high game of the day with a 208. Mercer Hart had the high series of 200-574. Dean Fuller scored high on the Kings and Queens league with a 214-540. On the Glamour Grammys, secretary Lee Nerli led the league for series with a 167-463. Bobby Sheppard had the high game of 178.

Serra Bowl

WE ARE HAPPY to be one of the establishments hosting the "Christmas Singles Classic" this year. Play in the qualifying round started Thursday and continues through December 15. This event is a multiple elimination tournament open to all ABC and WIBC members.

Two new leagues get under way soon at Serra: one Friday evening at 6:15 p.m. and the other Sunday at 6 p.m. The children's playroom is open for bowlers with children 6 years old and under (from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m.).

Last Wednesday night in the 835 scratch league, Charlie McGurde, Pete Mingram, Bob Bresnahan, Bill Nassano and George Chapman, bowling on the B & G Market team, bowled a beautiful 1061 team game and 2851 series... Nice shootin'.

The Saturday afternoon classes for men and women bowlers got off to a nice beginning last Saturday and promises to develop rapidly. The instructions are for experienced bowlers and novices alike. Instruction is being conducted by Brad Nelson and Billy Mack. Classes are from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

TOUGH FOOTBALL

PAL Braves Upset Vikings

Play in the Daly City Recreation department's tough football league resumed last week. Highlight of the week was a 12-6 upset win over the PAL Vikings by the PAL Braves in the seventh grade league. Here is a roundup of the week's action:

FIFTH GRADE

In fifth grade action, the OLPH Bugs downed the BYA Blues, 13-0, in a game marked by stout defense on the part of the Bugs.

The winners tallied on a 25-yard pass from Barry Clark to Tim Denning and on a 25-yard and on a 25-yard reverse with Steve Holberg reaching pay dirt.

Holberg tallied the game's only conversion.

In other action, the PAL Tigers edged the BYA Renegades, 6-0. Albert Abbott of the Renegades snared three Tiger passes but his defensive efforts couldn't stem the winners.

The only score of the game was made on a pass from Brad Perrone to Steve Azzarello.

A close defensive contest saw the Cougars and the Rams battle to a 0-0 tie. Then, in overtime, the Cougars sustained a deception. long drive that was enough to give them a 1-0 win.

SIXTH GRADE

The Holy Angels Colts could muster only six players for their scheduled game with the PAL Eagles and as a result, the Eagles won by forfeit.

Quarterback Roger Di Virgilio and Jack Kearney teamed up on a 40-yard passplay that gave the OLPH Golds a 12-6 victory over the PAL Raiders.

Earlier, Di Virgilio ran over from the two-yard line for the Golds' first score after Mike Bender had set up the touchdown with a 40-yard pass inter-

SEVENTH GRADE

Action in the seventh grade loop was highlighted by an upset 12-6 win over the PAL Vikings by the PAY Braves in overtime.

A pass interception by Paul Romer decided the issue.

In another hard-fought battle, the BYA Bender Roofing Cats retained their league lead by defeating the OLPH Wildcats for the second time this season, 12-0.

EIGHTH GRADE

The only contest in the eighth grade loop found the OLPH Steamrollers running over the Holy Angeles Colts, 18-6.

BULLDOG GRID FINALE

Scattini Ties 2 Records In CSM-Oakland Deadlock

Gene Scattini closed out his College of San Mateo football career last week with one of the greatest passing performances in the 41-year history of the junior college.

But the effort fell short of its goal as invading Oakland City college came back to make the Bulldogs for fifth or sixth place in final Golden Gate conference standings.

Scattini, who prepped at Mills High, tied the conference record by completing 20 passes (in 34 attempts) as ironically did opposing Thunderbird signal caller Jim Sharpe who hit on 20 of 37 attempts but had a record-setting five aeriels stolen by CSM defensive backs. Only one Scattini aerial was picked off.

Scattini's 255 yards is second in conference annals only to Butch Rounsaville's 310 yards for Diablo Valley year. However, Scattini's over-all performance was better than Rounsaville's who attempted 41 passes in order to complete 20 and had five stolen as the Vikings went down to a six-point defeat.

Rounsaville controlled the ball on a record 51 offensive plays in that game as did Scattini last week.

San Mateo dominated early play in the contest but Oakland fought back strongly only to be thwarted by six San Mateo pass thefts (one shy of the league record) for two quarterbacks. Oakland needed to punt but once.

Down, 14-6, entering the fourth quarter, the T-Birds struck pay dirt twice—on a three-yard scamper by Ed Titus and a QB sneak by Sharpe—to move ahead for the first time in the game, 20-14.

However, CSM came right back with the final OCC kickoff, marching 57 yards in seven driving 38 yards with Sharpe sneaking in from the one.

The Mateans marched right back with the kick-off, 75 yards in 16 plays, O'Neil getting the last five at right tackle, untouched.

Wedlow, who hails from Hartshorne, Okla., and Oakland's Jim Martin were both playing but their second games for their respective schools. However, each grabbed seven receptions, one short of the conference record.

Colma Soccer League Opens

The Colma-Recreation Soccer league opened play last week with ten teams vying for the league crown.

Opening day action saw the Dutchmen down the Lakers, 4-2, while the Shamrocks defeated the Celtics, 6-2. Jerry Calios tallied four goals for the Shamrocks while his brother, Willie, scored the other two.

The second day of play found the Dutchman, paced by Henry Michon's three goals, victors over the Shamrocks, 3-0.

In other action, the Bruins downed the Giants, 5-3, the Vikings blinked the Texans, 3-0 and the Lancers swept by the Warriors, 3-0.

World Bible Reading to Be Observed

Residents of Daly City have been urged by the Rev. Vernon E. Thomas, minister of the Broadmoor church of the Nazarene, to join millions of people in observing the 20th anniversary of Worldwide Bible Reading.

This program, sponsored by the American Bible Society, provides a spiritual bond among the peoples of the world who each day between Thanksgiving Day and Christmas read the same, pre-selected portion of the Bible.

Frequently described as the "world's largest Bible-reading class," the program features a bookmark that lists a selection from the Bible for each day between the two holidays.

A distinguished board of laymen, among them the three living former presidents of the United States, Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, sponsors the annual program.

The program was born during World War II when a lonely Marine on Guadalcanal wrote his family in Philadelphia and suggested that close spiritual ties could be maintained by agreeing upon selected Bible passages in advance and having each family member read them on an assigned day.

This year's theme is "The Word of Truth."

The program started with the reading of the 100th Psalm Thanksgiving Day and will end with the reading of the Christmas story from the Gospel of Luke Christmas Eve.

Advent Will Be Observed

Advent season will be highlighted at Bethlehem Lutheran church by a series of advent vespers to be held each Sunday evening through December 15.

These services will include informal singing, prayers, scripture reading and meditations on the texts from Handel's "Messiah."

They will be held at Pastor and Mrs. George S. Johnson's home at 2780 Berkshire drive in Monte Verde from 5 to 6 p.m.

Advent season also is observed by the lighting of candles on advent wreaths each Sunday at the 11 a.m. church service. Pastor Johnson's sermon theme for Sunday will be "Heads Up."

Sermon Topic Is Announced

"What is Real Religion?" will be the sermon topic at 11 a.m. worship services at Westside Baptist church Sunday. The Rev. A. David Donnelly, pastor, will preach.

Sunday evening, the church congregation will visit Lakeside Baptist church at 1515 East Third street in Oakland for a baptismal service.

Reverend Donnelly has been invited by the Rev. Eric Lindholm, pastor of Lakeside, to speak at that church's evening gospel hour at 7:30 p.m.

Tonight, the midweek prayer and Bible study hour will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Christensen of 1558 Miranda court in Pacifica.

Membership Tea Mapped

The women of the Altar Society of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica will sponsor a membership tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday. Pouring will be Mrs. Connie Suez, president and Mrs. Patricia Valentine, vice president.

December 19, the group will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. at St. Rita's hall.

Mrs. Marty Miller will present a demonstration of making her "Cloud of Angels" Christmas decoration mobile.

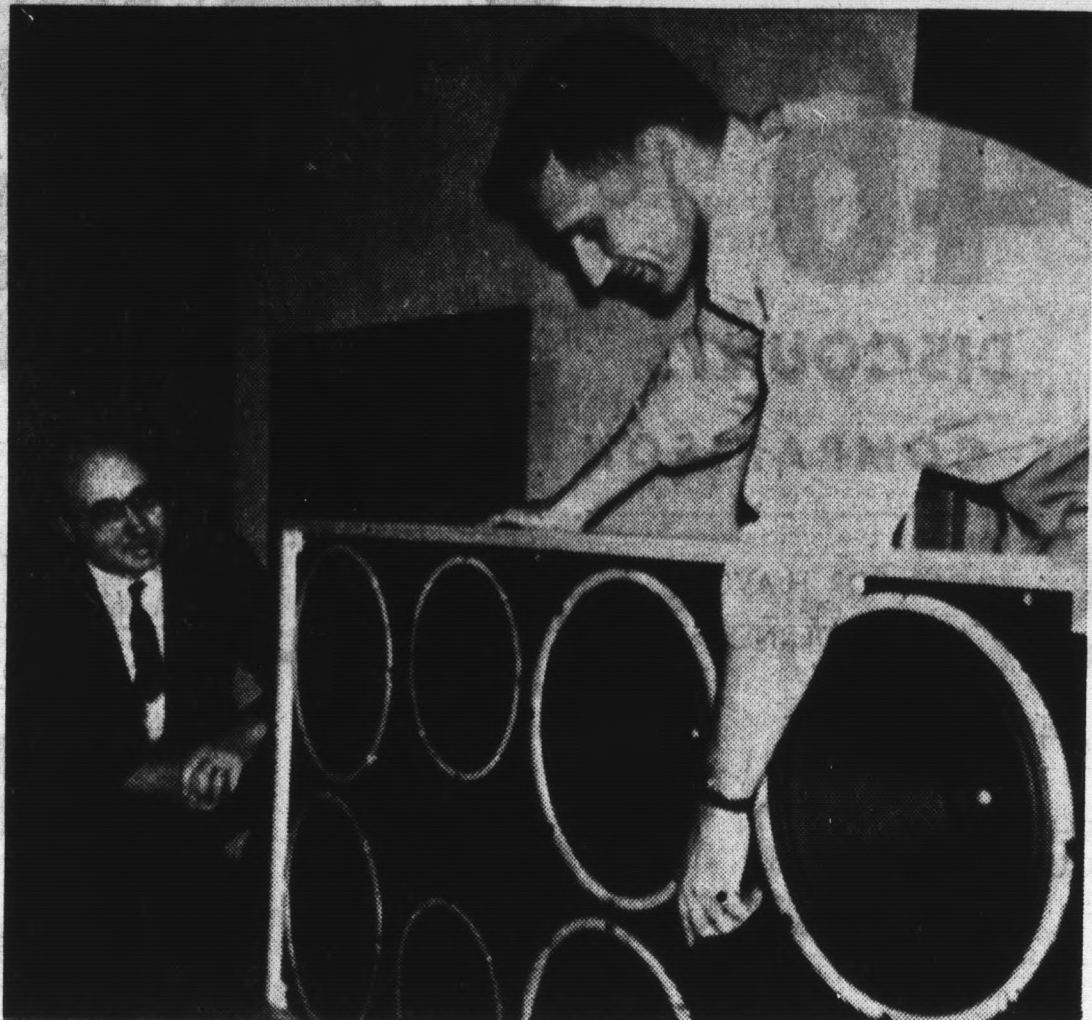

A rummage sale planned January 17 and 18 will be discussed.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

DELLMAR SEVERY, left, organist and music director at Broadmoor Presbyterian church, listens to William E. Happersett Jr. of the Allen Organ company of Oakland as he explains the qualities of the speakers being installed for the M. Pauline Brown Memorial organ. The speaker Happersett points to has the equivalent sound of a 32-foot organ pipe.

Jehovah's Witnesses to Sponsor Circuit Assembly

The Watchtower Bible and Tract society will sponsor a three-day circuit assembly for Jehovah's Witnesses in San Francisco December 20-22.

William Marks, presiding minister of the Daly City congregation, said 18 congregations from San Francisco and the Peninsula will attend.

The Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco will be used for the assembly. Some 2000 delegates are expected.

The program will include morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations on conducting home Bible studies.

New ministers will be baptized Saturday, December 21. Arthur L. Borchardt, from the Witnesses' world headquarters in Brooklyn, will be the key speaker.

He is the district supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses in Northern California.

His public Bible discourse, "The Bible Triumphs in a Scientific World," will end the assembly at 3 p.m., Sunday, December 22.

Graham Aide To Give Talk

Bob Harrison, a graduate of San Francisco State college and a member of the Billy Graham crusade team, will be the speaker at Saturday's youth-for-Christ rally in the War Memorial auditorium at Van Ness avenue and McAllister street at 7:30 p.m.

A pre-rally event, starting at 7, will feature a quiz between high school clubs representing Washington, Balboa and Terra Nova High schools.

Since joining the Graham organization in 1958, Harrison has traveled under the group's auspices throughout this country, Europe and, more recently, Africa, where he conducted meetings in Liberia, Sierra Leone, Ghana, and Nigeria.

He will talk on crucial problems facing Africa today.

Yule 'Hi-Jinks' Are Scheduled
The Mothers' club of the Church of the Visitation is planning its annual Christmas "Hi-Jinks" and meeting December 11 at 8:15 p.m. in the parish hall at 655 Sunnyvale avenue, San Francisco. The chairman will be Mrs. Charles Grisanti, vice president of the club.

A traditional turkey raffle and exchange of gifts will be held. Gifts will be brought by members for babies and needy families. Grocery baskets will be supplied.

Memorial Organ Is In Place

The new Margaret Pauline Brown memorial organ is now in operation at Broadmoor Presbyterian church.

The organ and an accompanying high fidelity stereophonic sound reproduction system honor the memory of Mrs. Brown who was a member of the Eighty-seventh street church until her death in 1959 at the age of 84.

Members of an organ fundraising committee are planning a number of special events in connection with the installation of the organ.

They include a public recital, a dinner celebration and a worship dedication.

The organ's carillon and bells speakers that have been installed in the church tower.

Music from the organ can be produced from the rear as well as the front of the inside of the sanctuary to give a stereo effect.

The instrument's equipment includes two 32-foot pipes.

Pearl Harbor Talk Planned

The tragedy that was Pearl Harbor will be discussed by Rabbi Solomon Shore in his sermon during Friday night services at Temple B'nai Israel. The services will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Assisting Rabbi Shore will be Mark Lee Rubin who will observe his bar mitzvah during services Saturday morning.

These services will be at 10 a.m. at Rodeph Shalom, Brussels and Silliman streets, in San Francisco.

The youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rubin. The father is the newly elected vice president of Temple B'nai Israel congregation.

Chanukah Dance Slated by Club

The Men's club of Congregation B'nai Israel will conduct its annual Chanukah dance Saturday evening, December 21, in Colombo hall, at 15 San Pedro road, Colma.

The theme of the dance will be "Festival of Lights." Music will be furnished by Ray Clarfield and his orchestra. Proceeds of the dance will be added to the congregation's building fund.

Bar Mitzvah Celebrated

John Byrne, son of Mrs. Evelyn Byrne of 376 Northgate avenue, Daly City, celebrated his Bar Mitzvah last week at Friday evening services of Temple Judea, held in the House of Lawton in San Francisco.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter officiated.

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

AT TERRA NOVA the reaction to the news of President Kennedy's death seemed typical of the nation. At 11:10 a.m., the bell rang and students crowded the halls, going to their lockers or their next class. A strange buzz could be heard. Everyone had the words "President" and "shot" on his lips.

The first reaction was that this was just a joke or some crazy rumor that had gotten out of hand, but as more and more people everywhere at Terra Nova had the same story to tell, the reaction was shock.

In a matter of minutes the radio at the Book Fair was surrounded by strangely silent Terra Novans — listening for news of the President.

Then the news of the President's death was heard. Many of the girls started to cry but the boys expressed their emotions through anger at the man who had fired the shot.

I was standing outside the Book Fair when the news came. I hadn't been too worried at news of his being shot. I thought: "He's strong. If he is shot, he'll probably be all right in a couple of days."

How shocked I was at the news of his death! I felt cold and it was hard to keep from crying. An English teacher who had been standing there turned white. I was afraid that she was going to be sick.

For the rest of the day, all school work was suspended, involuntarily. It was an automatic reaction. No one could think of anything else.

THE NEWS of the President's death so outweighed everything else that school news seems too trivial to remember. The school was busy last week, however, and will be again as always.

The seniors put on a Book Fair between November 19 and 26. It did a thriving business. Seniors shared in the profits.

The Junior Prom was to be held Friday, November 22, but was postponed until the following Wednesday. The juniors had a very good turn-out with 83 tickets sold.

A girls' league is being organized at Terra Nova. Girls will vote on a constitution this week. Purpose of the league is to promote school spirit by encouraging girls to actively participate in school activities.

A clothes board to regulate dress standards and enforce them is one of many units to be set up if the constitution is voted in.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
I have a girl friend who is very tiring. She seems to think she is in love. Every day, day after day, she talks of him and her love for him. If I jokingly say he is ugly or something, she blows her top, and is at his defense immediately. He doesn't act as if he loves her, maybe likes, yes, but not as a girl friend. What can I say or do to make her be herself again without hurting her feelings?

Miss K.

Dear Miss K:
Nothing. Nothing at all. She obviously isn't the kind of person you can sit down and talk to. You should stop talking about him.

The more you do, the more she will defend him and put more attention on her so-called love for him. Everytime she mentions him, rather than cut him down, either change the subject or agree with her.

Pretty soon, the thrill will be gone. People always want to defend the underdog. Don't make him an underdog. Make him a hero. Heroes don't need anyone to defend them.

If you feel you want to take a chance telling him, it might help. He can set her straight.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 15 years old and for the first time I had a boy get fresh with me. He is a real nice boy but for some reason he got carried away.

Now I'm afraid to go out with him again. I like him very much and want him to date me again but I'm afraid he'll try something again. What do I do? I don't want to hurt him.

Miss R.

Dear Miss R:
You have been put to the test. This is a tough problem for you, but easily answered. Go out with him. Keep him busy. Don't let the occasion arise where he will have the opportunity to try something.

First thing you should do is tell him how displeased you were about the last time. Tell him you will have to stop going out with him if it happens again.

Don't worry about your hurting him. What about him hurting you? If he truly likes you, he will never do it again. If he respected you, he wouldn't have tried it in the first place.

So put him in his place right now. Remember young lady, your reputation will follow you through life. Don't start one that will ruin you forever.

If you allow him to "get fresh" with you, what will he feel about you? Will he say what a nice kid you are and how you didn't hurt his feelings. No, he will not respect you or even like you.

Think of it this way. The reputation you create now in your early teens will be with you the rest of your life. Weighing that against a guy's feelings about getting hurt sure should snap you to a fast judgement.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or an issue you'd like me to discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

Museum Will Extend Hours

In an effort to provide maximum cooperation for the dedication of the new campus of College of San Mateo Sunday, the County Historical Museum on the campus will be open hat day from noon to 6 p.m.

The museum is usually open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m. every week day.

While the old museum attracted about sixty adults a month, there has been a continuous flow of an average of 60 adults a day in the new museum since its opening Oct. 28.

More than 5000 visitors were counted in the first ten days.

Sunday, guides will be on hand to direct visitors and explain exhibits. Music will be played on the museum's Melodeon and the Regina Music box.

S.S.F. Smoke Shop Asks Return of Beer License

Operators of the Grand Smoke shop at 202 Grand avenue, South San Francisco, have asked the superior court to order their beer license returned to them. The license was lifted by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control board after an accusation was sustained that the owners Catherine Carmichael and Mary Gerboni, had allowed bookmaking in the place.

The owners asserted that there was no evidence to support the charge and called the ABC's action "harsh, arbitrary and unreasonable."

A man who was charged with making book there, Les Williams, died before he could be brought to trial. If he had lived, the owners state in their petition, Williams would have said that they were innocent and that he was not employed by them. The operators ask the court to issue a writ ordering the ABC to reinstate the license. A hearing has been scheduled for 10 a.m. December 12.

Teaching of Reading Will Be Discussed

Three leading San Mateo county educators will review methods of teaching reading at a meeting of the Vallejo P-TA at 7:30 tomorrow night in the school's multi-use room.

Mrs. L. E. Engleman, Seventeenth district P-TA president, will be chairman of the discussion. The three educators are:

Dr. Helen Burke, an author for Scientific Research association and the first clinical psychologist in San Mateo county. Her topic will be: "A Working Method of Teaching Phonics."

Viola Owen, curriculum coordinator for San Mateo county schools for the past four years. She will speak on: "A Review of Learning to Read."

Mrs. Ida Thompson, who holds life credentials for teaching kindergarten through junior college and holds a master's degree from San Jose State college. She is working on her doctorate.

The Top Ten

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WITH THE arrival of December, the rush of Christmas shopping and baking makes every day a busy one, doesn't it? And we are all interested in recipes that will give us more time for these happy occupations. This first recipe comes to us from Mrs. Carol Hoefling of 53 Wavercrest drive, Daly City, and it falls into the category of "quick and easy," just what we need on these busy days.

Mrs. Hoefling tells me her children love it and I can see where they would. For it combines the foods most children like: vegetable soup, hamburger and potatoes.

QUICK CASSEROLE

- 1 lb. hamburger
- 2 cans vegetarian vegetable soup
- 3 medium potatoes, sliced

Place half the potatoes in the bottom of casserole dish, crumble hamburger over potatoes and pour soup over all. Then arrange the rest of the potatoes on top. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Cover and bake in 350 degree oven for one hour or until potatoes are done.

WITH CHRISTMAS baking going on and the house filled with the delightful fragrance of sugar and spice, here is a cake you can bake and serve right now. For I know your family will feel cheated to come home and find all the goodies are being put aside for Christmas.

Mrs. Carol Gerst, of 1951 Palou avenue, San Francisco, gave me this recipe and I know from happy experience that it is delicious.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

- 1 can applesauce
- ½ cup oil
- 1 cup sugar

Heat over fire until sugar is dissolved. Add all at once to the following ingredients, which have been sifted together:

- 2 cups flour
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- ½ tsp. ground cloves
- ½ tsp. allspice
- 1 tsp. cinnamon

Mix well and then blend in:

- 1 cup raisins
- ½ cup chopped nuts

Pour into loaf pan that has been greased and floured. Bake in 350 degree oven for 1 hour.

SINCE YOU are going to be busy in the kitchen baking, why not cook a stew as you mix and stir the ingredients for the goodies? This stew plus French bread and a tossed green salad would make a delightful meal to serve at the end of a busy day.

LAMB AND GREEN BEAN STEW

- 1 pound stewing lamb, cut in 1-inch cubes
- ½ cup sliced onion
- 2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
- ¾ cup water
- 1½ cups canned tomatoes
- 1½ cups diced raw potatoes
- 1 pkg. (9 ounce) frozen cut green beans
- 1½ teas. salt
- ¼ teas. pepper
- 1 teas. Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ cup cold water
- 2 Tbsp. flour

Brown lamb and onions in butter. Add three-fourths cup water. Cover and simmer for 1½ hours or until tender. Add tomatoes, potatoes, beans, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Cook for 25 minutes. Add ¼ cup cold water to flour, stir until smooth. Add to stew, stirring vigorously. Cook 5 minutes or longer, or until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

I PLAN to have a section devoted to cookies for Christmas and would like very much to have any of your good cooks (or should I say "good cookies") send in your favorite recipes.

Christmas Pageantry

CHRISTMAS pageantry in schools and churches throughout the North county will be much in evidence this month. Typical of the children who will participate are these youngsters from the fifth grade at Our Lady of Mercy school. The girls, left to right,

Pam Kilmartin, Colleen Murray and Anne Neagle, will be among a group appearing in a Christmas program to be presented at a meeting of the Westlake Catholic Women Monday evening in the parish hall. (Charles Blagdon photo)

Yule Display Contest Set

The Italian Catholic federation of Colma, branch 19, will sponsor once again its annual outdoor religious Christmas display contest.

Judging of displays will be conducted on the evening of Tuesday, December 17.

Three trophies will be awarded. They will be donated by Lucca market of Daly City, Bennie's incorporated of San Mateo and Bob Randick company of San Mateo.

Applications to enter the contest may be obtained at the rectory of Holy Angels church. They must be returned to the rectory no later than December 15.

Westlake Group To Hear Reports

A general meeting of the Westlake Catholic women will be held Monday in the parish hall of Our Lady of Mercy church after devotions at 8 p.m.

Frs. Frank Lawson will give a report on house parties. Mrs. Robert Bell will announce the results of a recently held Christmas decorations sale.

The next activity planned by the parish will be a cookie-candy sale December 15.

The group's annual fashion show and luncheon will be held February 1, 1964, in the grand ballroom of the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco.

Mrs. Vern Box has requested members who have rummage to bring it to Monday's meeting.

Hospitality chairman Mrs. Anthony Formosa will be assisted by these hostesses: Mrs. Marion Dunn, Mrs. Joseph Conrad, Mrs. Joseph Hamblin, Mrs. Francis Kelly, Mrs. Joseph O'Gorman and Mrs. Charles Williams.

Friends of Library Luncheon Is Planned

Two Daly City women are members of a committee helping plan the Trustees and Friends of Libraries Luncheon Friday, December 13, in the Sheraton-Palace hotel in San Francisco.

Representatives of the Daly City Friends of the Library and other similar groups in the Bay Area will attend the luncheon.

Mrs. Jack Kendree and Mrs. Andrew Hanselman, both members of the Daly City group, are serving on the luncheon's hospitality committee.

They both also are members of the Daly City Library commission.

The luncheon will be highlighted by a talk by the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California. He will speak on "The Freedom to Read."

After the luncheon, a panel will discuss ways of developing and strengthening Friends of Libraries groups throughout the state. A proposal for a statewide organization will be aired.

Mrs. Frank J. Specht, treasurer of the Daly City unit, will be the group's official representative to the luncheon. Other members expected to attend include Mrs. Julian Cohn and Mrs. Thomas Brewster.

Reservations may be made by calling the secretary's office at the San Francisco Public Library, HE 1-2121.

The luncheon will be a key part of the California Library association's 65th annual conference, which opens Tuesday and will run through December 14.

More than 1300 delegates are expected to attend the conference, which will be held at the Sheraton-Palace.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCHWOMAN of St. Edmund's Mission in Pacifica will go ahead with plans to present an annual missionary tea Saturday afternoon but the affair has taken on a new significance and poignance as a result of the tragic events in Dallas.

According to Mrs. David Marvin, since concern over the welfare of minorities was an integral part of the personality of our late president, John F. Kennedy, it seems more fitting that the tea to benefit underprivileged Negroes in the South should proceed as planned instead of being cancelled.

The tea, the theme of which will be "Deck the Halls," will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brydone-Jacks on Gypsy Hill road near the top of Sharp Park road, from 2 until 5 p.m. A variety of small gifts and holiday ornaments are being prepared by the women of the church for sale during the social period.

Mrs. Robert deRusha and Mrs. Paul Elliott are in charge of gifts and ornaments. Mrs. Jack Dilles will be the official hostess. Mrs. Robert Ward heads the refreshment committee and Mrs. Kyne Catton is president of the sponsoring group.

Tickets, costing 25 cents, are still available and may be obtained by contacting any member of the Episcopal Churchwomen or by phoning Mrs. Catton, EL 9-0910 or Mrs. William Stern, FL 5-6863.

THE FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY will gather at 10 a.m. tomorrow morning in the Coral room of the Westlake branch of the Daly City library to hear Shirley Sarvis review her new book, "Cooking Scandinavian."

Miss Sarvis, a free lance food writer and consultant, toured the Scandinavian countries to seek out new and unusual recipes to include her book.

Members of the public are invited to attend the meeting to hear Miss Sarvis and to enjoy the social hour that will precede the lecture.

TWO REMINDERS of bazaars coming up this week.

Beautiful handmade pillows, pillowcases, dish towels, aprons and assorted bric-a-brac will be featured today at the Westlake Senior Citizens bazaar to be held in the social room of the Community Baptist church on Southgate in Westlake.

Mrs. Norman Wolff of the Commodore Sloat Mothers' club in San Francisco wishes to remind North county residents that a big welcome is waiting for them at a country carnival planned all day Saturday in the school building at Nineteenth avenue at Ocean avenue. In addition to the usual array of gifts, handiwork, plants, toys and gourmet items, the carnival will provide a snack counter, a clown act and many games for the younger set.

MR. AND MRS. WILLARD WAGNER of Westlake are honored as "People of Achievement" in the October edition of California Senior Citizens News, a monthly paper printed in San Diego and distributed throughout the state.

SHARING IS the greater part of joy at Christmas and the members of the North Peninsula Circle of the Florence Crittenton Home are in keeping with the spirit of the season as they continue to do everything possible to help the young women of the home through the difficult days of the Christmas season.

The members are continuing to collect cigar boxes and liquor bottles for the girls to use in creating clever holiday gifts and later this month some of the members will open their homes for a day so the young women may have cookie bakes, a taste of preparing for Christmas in a home, and just a chance to get out and visit with others.

"PAJAMA TOPS" was viewed by a large party of local young people during a recent performance.

Laughing uproariously during the performance and enjoying a late evening of dancing afterward were Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cohen and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ciremelli.

MRS. JULIAN PEKKAIN has been named the new treasurer of the Pacifica branch of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Peckain replaces Mrs. Katey Havens who has advanced to fill the post of president.

THE WOMEN of the Altar Society of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Pacifica are collecting items for their annual rummage sale to be held January 17 and 18, according to a letter from Mrs. Eleanor Battaglia, co-chairman of the sale.

MEMBERS of the Pacifica Community Chorus interrupted their rehearsal to applaud after hearing the voice of this year's bass soloist, Raymond Fong.

Fong, whose voice possesses a moving mellow quality, is the find and recruit of chorus director Kenneth Au Young who feels that Fong's performance in the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" will be one of the highlights of the evening.

Now that Dale Emde has recovered from a virus infection, he will return to the chorus to sing tenor airs and recitatives and he will be featured along with sopranos Dorothy Doherty, Jean Donahue and Mimi Simon. Richard Bush, of Old First Presbyterian church in San Francisco, will provide organ accompaniment.

The performance of the musical classic will be given December 15 at 8 p.m. in Our Savior's Lutheran church in Pacifica on the Cabrillo highway at Rockaway Beach.

THAT SPECIAL happy glow on the face of Mrs. Jerry Lane of Westlake is the result of a wonderful baby shower given for her by the medical assistants and nurses in the Medical-Dental building in the Westlake Shopping center.

Queen's Dinner Hadassah Plans Is Scheduled Chanukah Party

An incoming-outgoing queen's dinner, arranged by Junior Princess Pat Baker of Bethel 37, I. O. J. D., will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday at Parnassus Masonic temple at Ninth avenue and Judah street in San Francisco.

The theme of the dinner is "Italian Holiday." Veal scallopini will be the entree. The dinner will honor Ruth Lathoin, incoming queen, and Pam Towne of Daly City, outgoing queen.

The Westlake Hadassah will hold a Chanukah card party and luncheon Thursday, December 19, at the Lake Merced boathouse at noon.

Donations of $1.25 per person will be used for Youth Aliyah. Card games will include mah-jongg, bridge and canasta.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Joseph Glisan at WY 2-0177 or Mrs. Staley Fisher at PL 6-7522.

Christmas Program Is Scheduled

The Pacific Heights P-TA will present a Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Pacific Heights school.

A brief business meeting will be held before the program.

The presentation will open with the school band playing a group of selections under the baton of Boyd Johnson, band instructor.

A series of tableaux, called "Christmas Windows," will be presented by students under the direction of Mrs. Mary Sundberg, opportunity and resource teacher.

Students of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades will sing songs from "Oliver" under the leadership of Nathan Green, Rita Cameron, and Mrs. Dolores Mullican.

A community Christmas carol program will be held after the program. Santa Claus will be present with a bag full of "treats" for children.

Yule Program Is Off; Open House Mapped

A Christmas gift show and community singing program, scheduled for Tuesday night in the Daly City War Memorial Community center, has been cancelled.

Officials of the YWCA and Westlake Shopping center merchants, co-sponsors of the event, said the program was cancelled because of the death of President John F. Kennedy.

A gift show with ideas for Easter, birthday parties and anniversaries will be presented in February.

The YWCA will hold open house from 2 to 6 p.m. Tuesday in its offices at 375 South Mayfair avenue in the Westlake Shopping center. Holiday greetings will be extended.

Pastry Preparation

THESE MEMBERS of the Vista Mar P-TA are warming up for a P-TA-sponsored sale of homemade pastries, starting at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school's multi-use room. From

Sharp Park's P-TA to Meet

A combined November-December meeting of the Sharp Park P-TA will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the multi-use room of the school.

"Focus" for December will be: "Good Will Towards Men." Christmas music will be offered by the Sharp Park school advanced band and string orchestra under Rudy Salvini, director.

A display of Yuletide gifts, the annual Dutch auction and door prizes are planned.

Refreshments will be served by the parents of seventh grade pupils.

Art Guild of Pacifica Sets Annual Dinner

The Art guild of Pacifica will hold its annual dinner at 8 p.m. Monday at the Edgemar club, formerly Frazier's restaurant, in Pacifica.

The dinner will take place of the December meeting of the guild.

These members have been nominated for office:

Otis Strong, president; Louis Hays and Sydney Clark, vice president; Kathryn Shields, secretary and Ruth Rosengard, Belle Nau, John Patterson, Luther Spraker and Roberta Ewald, director.

Club Bazaar Rescheduled

The Mater Dolorosa Women's club bazaar, originally scheduled for November 23, will be held from 2 to 9 p.m. Saturday in the hall of Mater Dolorosa church at Forestview and Miller avenues in South San Francisco.

A surprise package booth and drawings by a caricature artist are planned. Doll clothes, made by a teen club, will be sold.

A 'Surprise' Party Slated

The Daly City Y-Wives will meet for a "surprise" Christmas party from 10 a.m. to noon Tuesday in the Lincoln Park clubhouse.

This will be the group's last meeting this year.

Holiday Tea Warmup

PUTTING THE final touches to preparations for their group's "Holiday Tea" Saturday are two members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist church. They are Mrs. James McGuigan, left, and Mrs. Arthur Stewart, refreshments and decoration chairman. The tea will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Temple Methodist church in San Francisco. (Post Times Photo)

Anniversary To Be Noted

Our Lady of the Visitation Young Ladies' Institute 190 will celebrate its 15th anniversary tomorrow. In addition, the institute will welcome the grand institute president, Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, for an official visit.

Chairmen will be Mrs. Gladys Hoffpaur, Virginia Pajkos and Ange Lucini. The decor will be in crystal.

60,000 AT 'LOST COLONY'

MANTEO, N. C. — One of the longest-running summer pageants, "Lost Colony," raked up a healthy 60,000 attendance this summer. The show management said it was an increase of 14 per cent from the previous season, and the biggest total since 1953.

Westmoor Sets Annual Dinner

The Westmoor High school P-TA will hold its seventh annual Christmas Dinner and Basketball Night Saturday, beginning at 5 p.m.

The annual fund raising event is to finance scholarships for graduating seniors.

The dinner will feature home-cooked chicken with all the trimmings. Following the dinner will be a traditional basketball game between the seniors and the faculty.

An hour long show, featuring the Westmoor dance band, directed by Howard Loeffler, and modern dance techniques, directed by Barbara Bosio, is an added attraction to this year's show.

The show will be between the dinner and the basketball game.

Tickets are available for a donation of $1.50 for persons over 12 years of age. Tickets are available for children under 12 for a one dollar donation.

Tickets and information are available by calling the following P-TA committee members: Mrs. Magnusson, PL 5-3167; Mrs. Herring, WY 2-4637; Mrs. Colangelo, PL 5-0790; Mrs. Williams, PL 5-3210; Mrs. Duport, PL 5-1083; Mrs. McBain, PL 5-8910.

Tickets are also available at the school.

Mr. Claus Is in Town

NEW FACILITIES

Westlake Bowl Re-Opening Set

Westlake Bowl will stage a grand reopening Saturday evening to celebrate the addition of three new features. They are:

A new billiards room, to be called the "Q Room," which will have 12 Brunswick Gold Crown tables.

A modern, 24-hour coffee shop and snack bar that will offer a menu geared for quick service.

A new sport shop, featuring a full line of bowling and billiard supplies.

Johnny Swanson, owner of Westlake Bowl, has named George Barnes manager of the coffee shop and snack bar. Barnes has a long career in food service operations.

Gil Fields, associated with the Brunswick corporation, will be on hand weekends in the sport shop.

In addition to the three new features, new wall-to-wall carpeting has been installed at Westlake Bowl and new rest-room facilities have been added. Westlake Bowl opened in November of 1958 with 32 lanes. The bowling center later was expanded to 52 lanes, making it the largest facility of its kind in Northern California.

More than 50,000 children have been registered in the bowl's supervised child care program to date.

Helicopter Airline Gains First Federal Certification

The International Airport-based San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines last week was granted the nation's first permanent federal certification of a helicopter airline.

The Civil Aeronautics Board also considers this the first certification issued to a non-subsidized helicopter service in the United States.

Hailed locally as recognition of hard-won success, the certification had been fought by Los Angeles Airways, a helicopter firm which is subsidized, and by Pacific Air Lines, a feeder service which is also subsidized.

Adopting the certification, the CAB refused to review the decision of Examiner Herbert K. Bryan that SFO airlines should be permanently recognized as a carrier between Sunnyvale, Palo Alto, International Airport, San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, and Marin and Contra Costa county.

San Francisco Assemblyman John F. Foran, says the decision emphasizes the city's need for a new heliport.

The copier service has been operating from a pad near the Ferry building, which is said to be in such disrepair that it will

Morris Plan Holding Unit Is Organized

At a special meeting of stockholders of The Morris Plan company of California, a plan of reorganization was approved under which a holding company, whose principal asset is The Morris Plan company of California, was organized.

The change, which will become effective December 31, included a split of outstanding stock, two-for-one, according to an announcement made by Ralph N. Larson, president.

The board of directors held its meeting and declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share, payable December 13 to stockholders of record November 29.

These Morris Plan officers were elected by the board of directors: Ray L. Bailey, manager of Morris Plan's Vallejo office, was elected an assistant vice president.

Fred H. Hess, manager of the Santa Ana office, was elected an assistant secretary.

Robert E. Northam, business development representative in Morris Plan's Oakland office and Glenn Sutton, loan officer in Vallejo, also were designated assistant secretaries.

SM Disposal Committee Established

A five-member committee to guide development of plans for a county-wide waste disposal program was appointed last week by the county board of supervisors.

County Manager E. R. Stallings recommended that the group be named as a result of discussions held at the recent local government symposium at the Hilton Inn.

He said various city officials expressed an interest in the county's plan to work on a program of land acquisition for disposal sites.

The committee's job will be to propose a procedure for putting into operation the recommendations contained in an engineering study that can be agreed upon.

Penney Yule Bonus Paid

A special Christmas payment to associates at the J. C. Penney company department store in the Westlake Shopping center will be made today.

Don Davis, manager, explained that the payment will go to regular and part-time associates employed on or before October 1 with the exception of members of the management staff.

Davis said: "The special Christmas payment is one of many benefits available to Penney associates. It is offered as further testimony of the company's interest in the welfare of people who contribute so much to our operation."

The payment is in addition to regular company provisions for sick benefits, hospital and surgical insurance plans, non-contributory group life insurance, Pension Profit-Sharing Retirement Plan, discounts on purchases and others.

Temple Under Construction

A Memorial to John F. Kennedy

Temple Judea's new synagogue, under construction (above) on Brotherhood Way, will contain a library named after the late President John F. Kennedy.

Temple officials say they believe this is the first time a person not of Jewish faith has been commemorated in this manner in a Jewish institution.

The memorial was announced last week by Rabbi Herbert Morris who said the library would be named as a tribute to the martyred president and the ideals for which he stood.

Rabbi Morris commented:

"Since President Kennedy spoke religious ideals, what better memorial to him than a house of worship."

The designation of the library as the President John F. Kennedy Memorial Library was made at a regular business meeting of the congregation's officers.

Construction of the new temple near Junipero Serra boulevard on Brotherhood Way began during summer of this year.

The building is scheduled to be ready for services in May of next year. It is being constructed by Henry Doelger Builders Incorporated. John Bolles is the architect.

JFK Library Honor Sought By Students

A target date of next Wednesday has been set by College of San Mateo students for submission to the college district board of trustees a petition seeking to have the college library building named in memory of the late President Kennedy.

Nearly 2000 of the college's 5400 day students had signed the petition last week and plans were to have a sign-up table available to the public in the Hillsdale Shopping center.

The petition seeks to have the college board name the modernistic building the "John F. Kennedy Memorial Library."

It is expected that trustees will refer the matter to the committee for naming buildings. There the proposal may hit some difficulties.

With development of the new campus, the committee recommended that there be functional titles for the main college centers.

In its report the committee said "that to use names of person living or dead... would invite a confusion of claims and claims and counter claims and lead to possible grievances and certain anomalies and illogicalities."

Petitioners at first had hoped that the petition could be submitted to trustees by this week in anticipation that if the board approved, the library could be formally named during Dedication week ceremonies.

To explain a "triumph" start with the first syllable.

Pacifica Vetoes UN Unit Backing

The Pacifica city council decided last week against affiliating with the American Association for the United Nations.

Action on the matter was by a 4 to 1 vote, with Councilwoman Mrs. Jean Fessler the lone dissenter.

The council majority indicated that it would not be appropriate for the city to endorse a specific organization without leaving the way open for similar proposals from other groups.

In another action, the council unanimously adopted a resolution of non-discrimination on the part of the city in employment practices and in dealing with its citizens.

The council referred back to the planning commission a request by Oddstad Homes for a change in zoning from C-1 to C-2 to allow construction of a veterinary hospital on the east side of Cabrillo highway in Sharp Park.

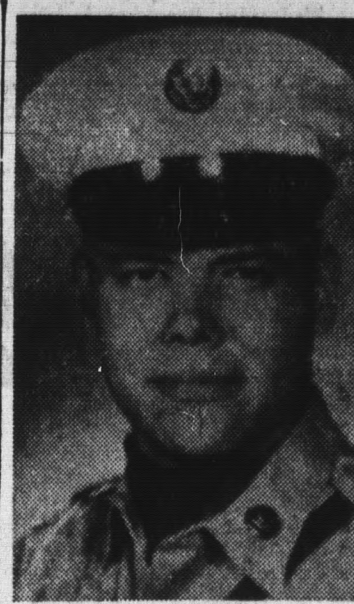

The council recommended that the commission consider amendment of the zoning ordinance to allow veterinary hospitals in a C-1 zone with a use permit.

Pacifica observed its sixth birthday as an incorporated city last week.

GAS STOLEN

Carol C. Kock of 355 Southgate avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had taken 12 gallons of gasoline from her auto and had bent an aerial. She said the car had been parked in a carport.

The meeting was adjourned in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

ARMY PVT. JAMES F. LANSING, son of Maj. (USA Ret.) and Mrs. Fred Lansing Jr. of 1013 S. Mayfair avenue, Daly City, was scheduled to complete eight weeks of military police training at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga. He was graduated from Westmoor High school in 1958 and from the University of California at Berkeley in 1963. He is a member of Lambda Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Coast Paper Is Sued

A $375,000 libel suit has been filed in superior court against The Pacifica Tribune by Alfred R. Lynch, a Pacifica school teacher and anti-smut crusader.

In the suit, Lynch charges that a front page story about him that appeared July 24 was "false, libelous, defamatory, malicious and underprivileged, impugning to plaintiff want of honesty, integrity, fidelity, skill and ability."

Some of the statements to which Lynch objected were "self-appointed guardian of the reading public's morals," "self-styled crusader" and quotes who called Lynch "radical" and "fanatic."

Lynch said the paper, which is published by William and Margaret Drake, "failed and refused to correct and retract or recall or apologize" for the story.

The suit asks $250,000 general damages and $125,000 exemplary and punitive damages.

THIS CHICKEN FLORENTINE with its garland of green spinach is enriched with a light, creamy cheese sauce and given a golden topping of fragrant Parmesan cheese. Truly a gourmet delight.

A Chicken for The Epicure

For a dish that is an epicurean delight, add tasty bits of chicken to a creamy cheese sauce made with the accent on flavor; pour over just-cooked-untill-tender bright green spinach; top with grated Parmesan cheese and place under broiler until top is a golden brown. Result fabulous Chicken Florentine. Recipe makes 4 servings.

1 pound fresh spinach or 1 package (10-ounces) frozen chopped spinach
3 tablespoons butter, divided
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
1 teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup (2 ounces) grated Swiss cheese
1/2 cup light cream
2 cups diced, cooked chicken
1-3 cup dry bread crumbs
Parmesan cheese, grated

Cook spinach until barely tender; drain well, chop rather fine unless frozen chopped spinach is used. Transfer to 1 1/2 quart buttered casserole. Pre-heat broiler. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Stir in flour, Ac'cent, salt and cayenne. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese and cream) cook over low heat until cheese is melted. Remove from heat; add chicken. Pour creamed mixture over spinach. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and dot with remaining 1 tablespoon butter. Place under broiler flame until lightly browned. If desired, sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan or other dry Italian cheese before placing under the broiler.

Meat Patties Dish Fitting Any Picture

A main dish to fit any picture is Liver Bacon Jumbles. These meat patties, each baked atop slices of onion and tomato, then wrapped with a strip of bacon, are attractive, too. It's unnecessary to re-emphasize the nutritious quality of liver, but budget-conscious homemakers will be glad to learn that just a pound of low-cost beef liver will make six generous patties when this recipe is followed.

Equating meat loaf with economy is almost trite. New K meat loaf is thrifty, but it cuts no corners on flavor. Half ground beef and half ground pork, the loaf also includes ready-to-eat high protein cereal and eggs. Its unique flavor comes also from green pepper and cooked tomatoes. This entree is quick to put together. Bake oven accompaniments along with the meat loaf. Remember the second-day appeal of sliced meat loaf — this one is ideal lunch-box fare sandwiched between slices or rye or pumpernickel bread.

LIVER BACON JUMBLES

2 cups corn flakes or
1/2 cup corn flake crumbs
1 pound beef liver
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup milk or beef stock
6 thin onion slices
6 tomato slices
6 bacon strips

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Pour boiling water over liver and let stand a few minutes; drain. Put through food chopper. Combine liver, salt, Worcestershire sauce, milk and corn flake crumbs. Mix well. Shape into 6 patties. Place onion slices on greased baking pan; top with tomato slices, then with liver patty. Wrap with bacon strips and fasten with toothpick. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings, 1 patty each.

K MEAT LOAF

1 pound ground beef
1 pound ground pork
3 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
1/2 cup finely chopped onions
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
3 eggs
1 cup cooked tomatoes
3 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Press lightly in greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/4-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours. Let stand about 5 minutes before turning out. Serve immediately, upside down, on heated platter. Yield: 8 servings.

Spiced Short Ribs Have a Budget Price

If you're a homemaker who is always looking for ways of sprucing up economy meat cuts, you certainly will find others with the same thoughts. Meat is a significant grocery item and a natural means of cutting corners.

In view of the special budget squeeze due to the coming holidays, home economist Reba Staggs offers a jaunty idea for pepping up beef short ribs. The recipe, entitled Spiced Short Ribs, calls for some unusual ingredients to cook with the meat, but the results are most tempting. The ingredients... prunes, dried apricots, sugar, vinegar and spices.

Beef short ribs are considered a less-tender cut of meat, but slow braising makes them appetizingly tender when served. Short ribs are the meaty ends of the same ribs found in standing rib roasts.

SPICED SHORT RIBS
3 pounds beef short ribs
1/4 cup flour
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup water
1 cup prunes
1 cup dried apricots
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
3 tablespoons vinegar
Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour and brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water, cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour. Add prunes, apricots and mixture of sugar, spices and vinegar. Continue cooking 1 hour, or until meat is tender. 4 to 6 servings.

Farming in America employs more than 7 million persons, more than the combined employment in transportation, public utilities, steel and automobile industries.

Eggnog Pie Adds To Yuletide Spirits

Now Christmas comes, 'tis fit that we, Should feast and sing and merry be...

December is a month of nostalgia—with memories of holly and mistletoe, dolls and stars, candles and tinsel, and turkey and dressing. With the family gathered together the yuletide spirit is warm, friendly and very festive.

In many homes during the holiday season, eggnog is served as traditional celebration drink when neighbors or friends drop in. This year why not serve your guests steaming hot coffee and Fluffy Eggnog Pie? This light and fluffy pie is accented with a slight touch of brandy extract and nutmeg to give a fancy festive flavor.

Fluffy Eggnog Pie is made the good and easy way with instant mixing pie crust mix. Its creamy-smooth texture and delightful flavor is sure to please both your family and friends.

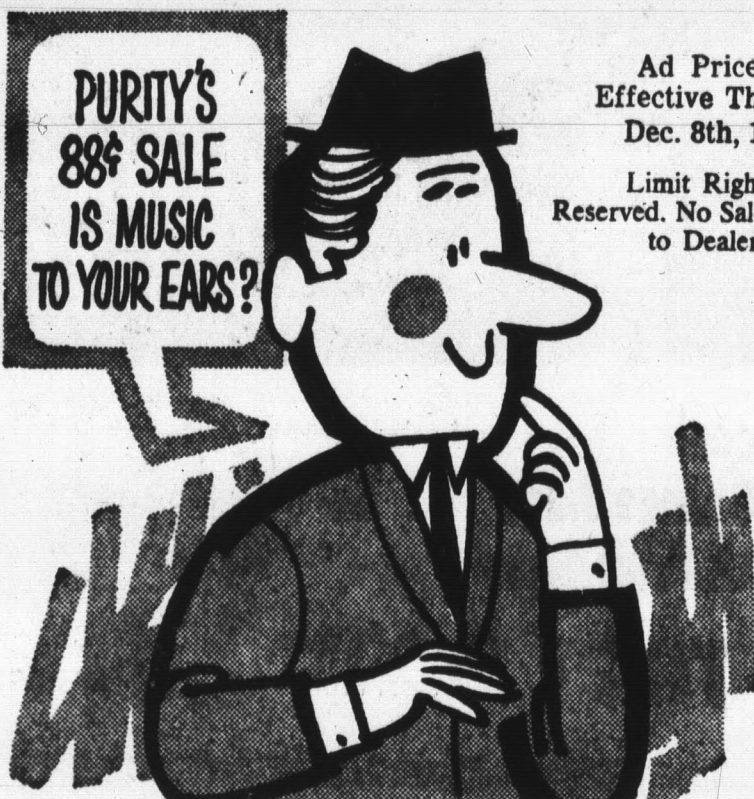

Here is the recipe for your holiday pie as created in the Betty Crocker Kitchens.

FLUFFY EGGNOG PIE
1 stick instant mixing pie crust mix
1 envelope unflavored gelatin (1 tsp)
1/4 cup cold water
4 eggs, separated
1/4 cup sugar
1 can (13 oz.) evaporated milk, heated
2 tsp. brandy extract
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
1/2 cup sugar

Prepare 9-in. baked pie shell as directed on pkg. Cool. Soften gelatin in cold water. Slowly beat egg yolks in small bowl until lemon colored. Beat in 1/4 cup sugar. Slowly add hot evaporated milk stirring constantly. Pour into top of double boiler and cook until slightly thickened. Remove from boiling water; add gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Stir in brandy extract and nutmeg. Chill until mixture begins to set. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until frothy. Gradually beat in 1/2 cup sugar, a little at a time. Continue beating until stiff and glossy. Fold beaten egg whites into gelatin mixture; spread into baked pie shell. Chill until firm, 6 to 8 hours.

A BOX OF CHRISTMAS COOKIES from your kitchen is sometimes the most welcome and thoughtful type of remembrance.

A Box of Yule Cookies A Thoughtful Remembrance

Christmas gifts need not be expensive and elaborate. A box of Christmas cookies from your kitchen is sometimes the most welcome and thoughtful type of remembrance.

Pack your Christmas cookies in festive boxes which you have decorated yourself with Christmas paper, seals and ribbons. Here are recipes for two exceptionally tasty and easy-to-make Christmas cookies.

Christmas Lemon cookies may be cut in a variety of shapes, and decorated as you wish. Bright Lemon Baubles require no cooking at all and are similar to Rum Balls, but with a new lemon tang. They're both made with convenient bottled lemon juice, a favorite flavoring at any time of the year.

BRIGHT LEMON BAUBLES

1½ cups vanilla wafer crumbs

1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar

2 tablespoons cocoa

½ cup finely chopped pecans

2 tablespoons light corn syrup

¼ cup bottled Lemon Juice

Combine all ingredients; let stand 30 minutes. Form into small balls, adding more corn syrup if mixture seems dry. Roll balls in colored or confectioners' sugar. Chill.

Yield: 2½ dozen.

CHRISTMAS LEMON COOKIES

½ cup butter

1 cup sugar

1 egg

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup bottled Lemon Juice

Cream together butter and sugar; add egg and beat well.

Sift together dry ingredients; add to first mixture, alternately with bottled lemon juice.

Chill several hours or overnight. Roll out ¼-inch thick; cut into festive shapes. Place on greased cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool. Decorate as desired with Ornamental Icing.

Blend 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla and enough cream to make an icing that will hold its shape but can be pressed through a pastry tube.

BUTTER-MADE SPICED COOKIES are the sweethearts of holiday merry-makers and their hostesses. It is easy to become noted for freshly-made Christmas cookies with today's recipes.

Butter Cookies Are Sweethearts

Among the delights of holiday baking left to the last is the making of crisp, fresh, butter-rich cookies. We offer today two easy-to-do, certain-to-be-praised types of cookies redolent with the fragrance and flavor of spices. Check spice shelf for ground cardamom, sesame seed and ginger and allspice.

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

Cardamom and toasted sesame seed make of these crescents an offering for giving great pleasure. You'll be rewarded with 4 dozen richly spiced cookies.

Sift together 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ½ and ¼ teaspoon salt. Gradually stir 1 cup sugar into 2-3 cup butter. Beat in 1 lightly beaten egg. Add flour mixture gradually, mixing after each addition.

Let dough stand 3 minutes at room temperature. With fingers, on waxed paper, shape a rounded teaspoonful of dough at a time into a roll 2 inches long. Taper ends. Roll in lightly toasted sesame seed. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Curve ends to form crescents. Bake in a preheated moderate, 375-degree, oven 18 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned around the bottom. Cool on wire rack. Store in tightly closed cookie jar or box.

X-To Toast Sesame Seed. Spread a thin layer of sesame seed in a large shallow baking pan. Toast in a preheated moderate, 350-degree, oven 20 to 22 minutes or until lightly browned.

This quick and easy Christmas cookie recipe is the base for letting your imagination and artistic abilities run riot as you decorate cookies cut into any desired shapes. We hope that our cookie picture will provide decorating ideas galore for holiday bells, trees, boots, wreaths and other appropriate motifs.

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt

1½ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground allspice
¾ cup butter
½ cup mild, light molasses
¾ cup sugar

Sift flour, salt, soda, ginger and allspice together for later use. Melt butter in saucepan large enough for mixing cookies. Stir in molasses and sugar.

Add flour mixture and mix well. Chill until dough is stiff enough to handle, usually about an hour. Roll to ½ inch thickness on a lightly floured board.

Shape as desired with cookie cutters or sharp knife using your own cardboard stencils as guides. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in hot, 400-degree, oven 5 to 7 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet at once. Cool; then decorate to your heart's content.

X-To Toast Sesame Seed. Spread a thin layer of sesame seed in a large shallow baking pan. Toast in a preheated moderate, 350-degree, oven 20 to 22 minutes or until lightly browned.

FANCY COOKIES

This quick and easy Christmas cookie recipe is the base for letting your imagination and artistic abilities run riot as you decorate cookies cut into any desired shapes. We hope that our cookie picture will provide decorating ideas galore for holiday bells, trees, boots, wreaths and other appropriate motifs.

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt

1½ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground allspice
¾ cup butter
½ cup mild, light molasses
¾ cup sugar

Sift flour, salt, soda, ginger and allspice together for later use. Melt butter in saucepan large enough for mixing cookies. Stir in molasses and sugar.

Add flour mixture and mix well. Chill until dough is stiff enough to handle, usually about an hour. Roll to ½ inch thickness on a lightly floured board.

Shape as desired with cookie cutters or sharp knife using your own cardboard stencils as guides. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in hot, 400-degree, oven 5 to 7 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet at once. Cool; then decorate to your heart's content.

Let dough stand 3 minutes at room temperature. With fingers, on waxed paper, shape a rounded teaspoonful of dough at a time into a roll 2 inches long. Taper ends. Roll in lightly toasted sesame seed. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Curve ends to form crescents. Bake in a preheated moderate, 375-degree, oven 18 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned around the bottom. Cool on wire rack. Store in tightly closed cookie jar or box.

BETER BUSINESS

Reliable Firm Important in Obtaining Furs

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business
Bureau's "Barometer"
THE STATUS, SYMBOL of the young American woman is mink. She has mink can openers in her kitchen.

There will be under the tree this Christmas furs in beautiful ly wrapped boxes from loving husbands who opened charge accounts and gave up cigarette money but who did not follow the first step in buying a fur coat—picking a reliable dealer whom he could trust.

The necessity of doing business with a reliable concern cannot be too strongly emphasized.

When a reputable merchant sells furs, his most important consideration is the satisfaction of the customer.

He uses no high-pressure selling methods and his reputation for fair dealing is his most valuable asset. The merchandise he shows the customer can be accepted with confidence.

Unfortunately, there are a few retailers whose chief interest is to sell merchandise regardless of the methods employed. They use a variety of high-pressure schemes to sell inferior furs at high prices.

A method commonly used by such concerns is what is known as "bait advertising." The store advertises or displays in its windows attractive garments at remarkably low prices with promises of amazing bargains and exaggerated "value" claims, which the advertiser has no intention of selling at the advertised prices.

THE TYPE of retailer who practices "bait advertising" methods usually will use other tricks.

One method is for the sales person to ask a hesitant customer to make a deposit with the false assurance that the deposit will be returned if she or he so desires.

Another trick concerns "guarantees." Oral guarantees are of little value as a guarantee is only as reliable as the house back of it.

If the guarantee does not stipulate definite facts and restrictions, it is practically worthless.

Another method is the use of alluring but false offers of "sample furs" and slightly used coats, which have been "posed by actresses" or "used in studio posing."

Many times the garments do not have price tags and the price is dependent upon whatever the merchant thinks he can get out of the customer.

Often this type of dealer offers fictitious allowances or trade-ins and raises his own prices to cover the make-believe liberal allowance.

Individuals, working with or on the payrolls of tricky fur-riers, sometimes work in so-called "stuffed flats." These persons advertise as private parties, stating that for various reasons (such as "leaving town") they have a practically new fur coat to sell at a great sacrifice.

Furs sold in this manner are usually overpriced, misrepresented, cheap and poor quality furs.

THE CHEAPEST KINDS of furs are sold by so-called "smugglers" and "fur pedlers" who go door-to-door and convince the gullible client that they are receiving furs that are sacrificed for a small portion of their real value.

The dealer misrepresenting himself as a "wholesaler" is another scheme. He sells at retail prices represented to be "wholesale" but which are not.

Beware of the scheme of credit checks, giving fictitious reductions and offers to remodel old fur coats at a low price as "bait" for extensive and costly repairs.

Avoid the tricky storage dealer who fails to provide adequate storage and insurance protection and who overcharges for repairs and tries to high pressure you into unnecessary repairs or extra services in order to make up for the bargain price storage rate.

The shopper for a fur garment should remember there are four important points in buying goods furs: (1) Serviceability. (2) Cost. (3) Style. (4) Purpose.

There is a difference in the serviceability of furs of the same species. Many species of skins are graded 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the quality is indicated by the fullness and texture of hair as compared with peltries of the same kind.

There is a difference in the serviceability of skins of different species, even of the same grade as well as other points, which is not dependent upon cost.

The most inexpensive rabbit will outwear the expensive chinchilla.

WORKMANSHIP, material, wear and care enter into the serviceability of a fur coat.

If you have not determined the definite amount you intend to spend for a fur coat, a reliable dealer will gladly show you furs at various prices—pointing out the difference in quality.

If you have a certain amount you desire to spend and you know the fur you want, examine various coats about that price or within reasonable range for comparative purposes.

Remember the purpose for which you are buying the coat.
Will you be wearing it for light or dress wear or every day and sports wear?

Remember, there are many beautiful furs which cannot by their texture be expected to give good and long wear without exceptional care and regular checkups to detect necessary repair.

Better Business Bureau advises again to deal only with reliable stores where you will get satisfaction and redress — when you are entitled to it.

DEATHS

Henry Glanz, Printer, Dies of Heart Attack

Henry N. Glanz, 56, veteran Post-Times composing room employee and a former Golden Gloves boxing champion, died last Tuesday from a heart attack at his home, 612 El Camino Real, San Mateo.

He had just completed his shift, as chief proofreader for the Post-Times and was sitting in his living room chair reading the paper when he collapsed and died.

His wife, Helene Glanz, summoned the fire department, but resuscitation proved unsuccessful. Glanz had suffered several heart attacks in recent years.

He was born on the high seas off the coast of Texas and his birthplace was recorded as Galveston when his ship docked.

Glanz became a top amateur boxer when he moved to Portland and joined the Multnomah Athletic club.

He competed as a light-heavyweight, winning Portland area titles and then boxing in San Francisco regional finals. Among the men he boxed was Lee Ramage.

Maintaining his interest in boxing until he died, Glanz helped coach at St. Vincent's School for Boys in San Rafael.

He joined The Post-Times 13 years ago and was a member of the company's Longtime club. He had served as a reserve police officer in San Mateo.

He is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Jack Coleman of San Mateo, Mrs. Frank Kraminski of Irwin, Pa., Sister Mary Claudia, O.P. of Oakland, Miss Margaret Mary Glanz of San Mateo; a son, Police Officer Henry N. Glanz Jr., of Los Banos; three brothers, John, George and Manuel of Portland, four sisters, Mrs. Howard Zent of Beaverton, Ore., Mrs. Morley Fletcher, Mrs. Richard Theobald, Mrs. Dave Schneider, all of Portland, and five grandchildren. Funeral services were held Friday from Patterson and O'Connell chapel and at St. Matthew's Catholic church where a requiem high mass was celebrated. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Colma.

MARTIN JOSEPH POWERS
Funeral services were held last week by the W. C. Lasswell chapel for Martin Joseph Powers, 64 Peoria street, Daly City.

He was a resident of Daly City for the past 40 years.

Survivors include a brother and a sister, Michael and Helen Powers.

Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery.

ANNIE GILSON
Funeral services for Annie Gilson of 42 Belpier street, Daly City were held last week by the W. C. Lasswell chapel.

A native of Iowa, she lived in California for 23 years, one year in Daly City.

She is survived by her children, Howard and George W. Gilson, Mrs. Annie Sineni and Mrs. Grace Kleppen, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Jennings.

Interment was in Olivet Memorial park.

MARTHA BINGMAN
Funeral services for Martha Bingman, 137 Hillcrest drive, Daly City, were held last week by the W. C. Lasswell chapel.

Mrs. Bingman, a native of Germany, lived in Daly City for 35 years. She died in San Francisco.

She is survived by her daughter Lena S. Bingman.

Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial park.

FRED T. ZEIBAK
Fred T. Zebak, 203 Mansfield drive, South San Francisco, died Thursday at his home.

He was a native of Palestine, had lived in this area 12 years, and in the state 25 years. He was a buyer for Eitel-McCullough, and a member of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, San Bruno.

Survivors include his wife Enyd; two daughters, Linda and Sally; two sons, Perry and Steven; three brothers, Elias and Robert, South San Francisco; and Henry, Eureka; three sisters, Mrs. Hilda Mallick and Mrs. Nellie Kraetz, South San Francisco; Mrs. Louise Dillard, Seattle.

Funeral services were held at El Camino chapel, San Bruno, Monday. Burial was in Golden Gate National cemetery.
